Large Guerilla Forces Landed During Night

Many Officials Arrested

Canton, July 13. An official spokesman announced that large Chinese guerilla forces landed at Namoa Island on the night of July 11 and fighting is still going on.

The guerillas claim to have captured the Chief of the Public Administration of Namoa, Wong Ling-chi, and the Vice-Chairman, Ling Wing-sin, who was shot, also the Police chief, Tseng Chin-jeng and other high police officers were arrested.

Japanese planes flew over the island today but did not drop any bombs.—(Reuter).

Central News reports that under a hazy moon, Chinese militia men took the handful of Japanese guards on the island completely by surprise. In the confused fighting, many of the Japanese were killed and wounded.

At the same time, a search was conducted by the Chinese for traitors. The head of the so-called Public Safety Bureau was captured together with many of his lieutenants.

The raid lasted from the night of July 11 till dawn the next morning, when the attackers departed taking with them large numbers of rifles and other military equipments seized as booty. The traitors captured have been escorted here for trial.—(Central News).

Concentration Camp Bombed By Japanese

240 KILLED

Canton, July 13. A total of 325 casualties is officially reported as a result of today's extensive air raid by Japanese planes in south Kwangtung. The majority of the casualties occurred at Tsengcheng on the Canton-Walchow highway where the raiders dropped bombs in a concentration camp killing 240 persons.

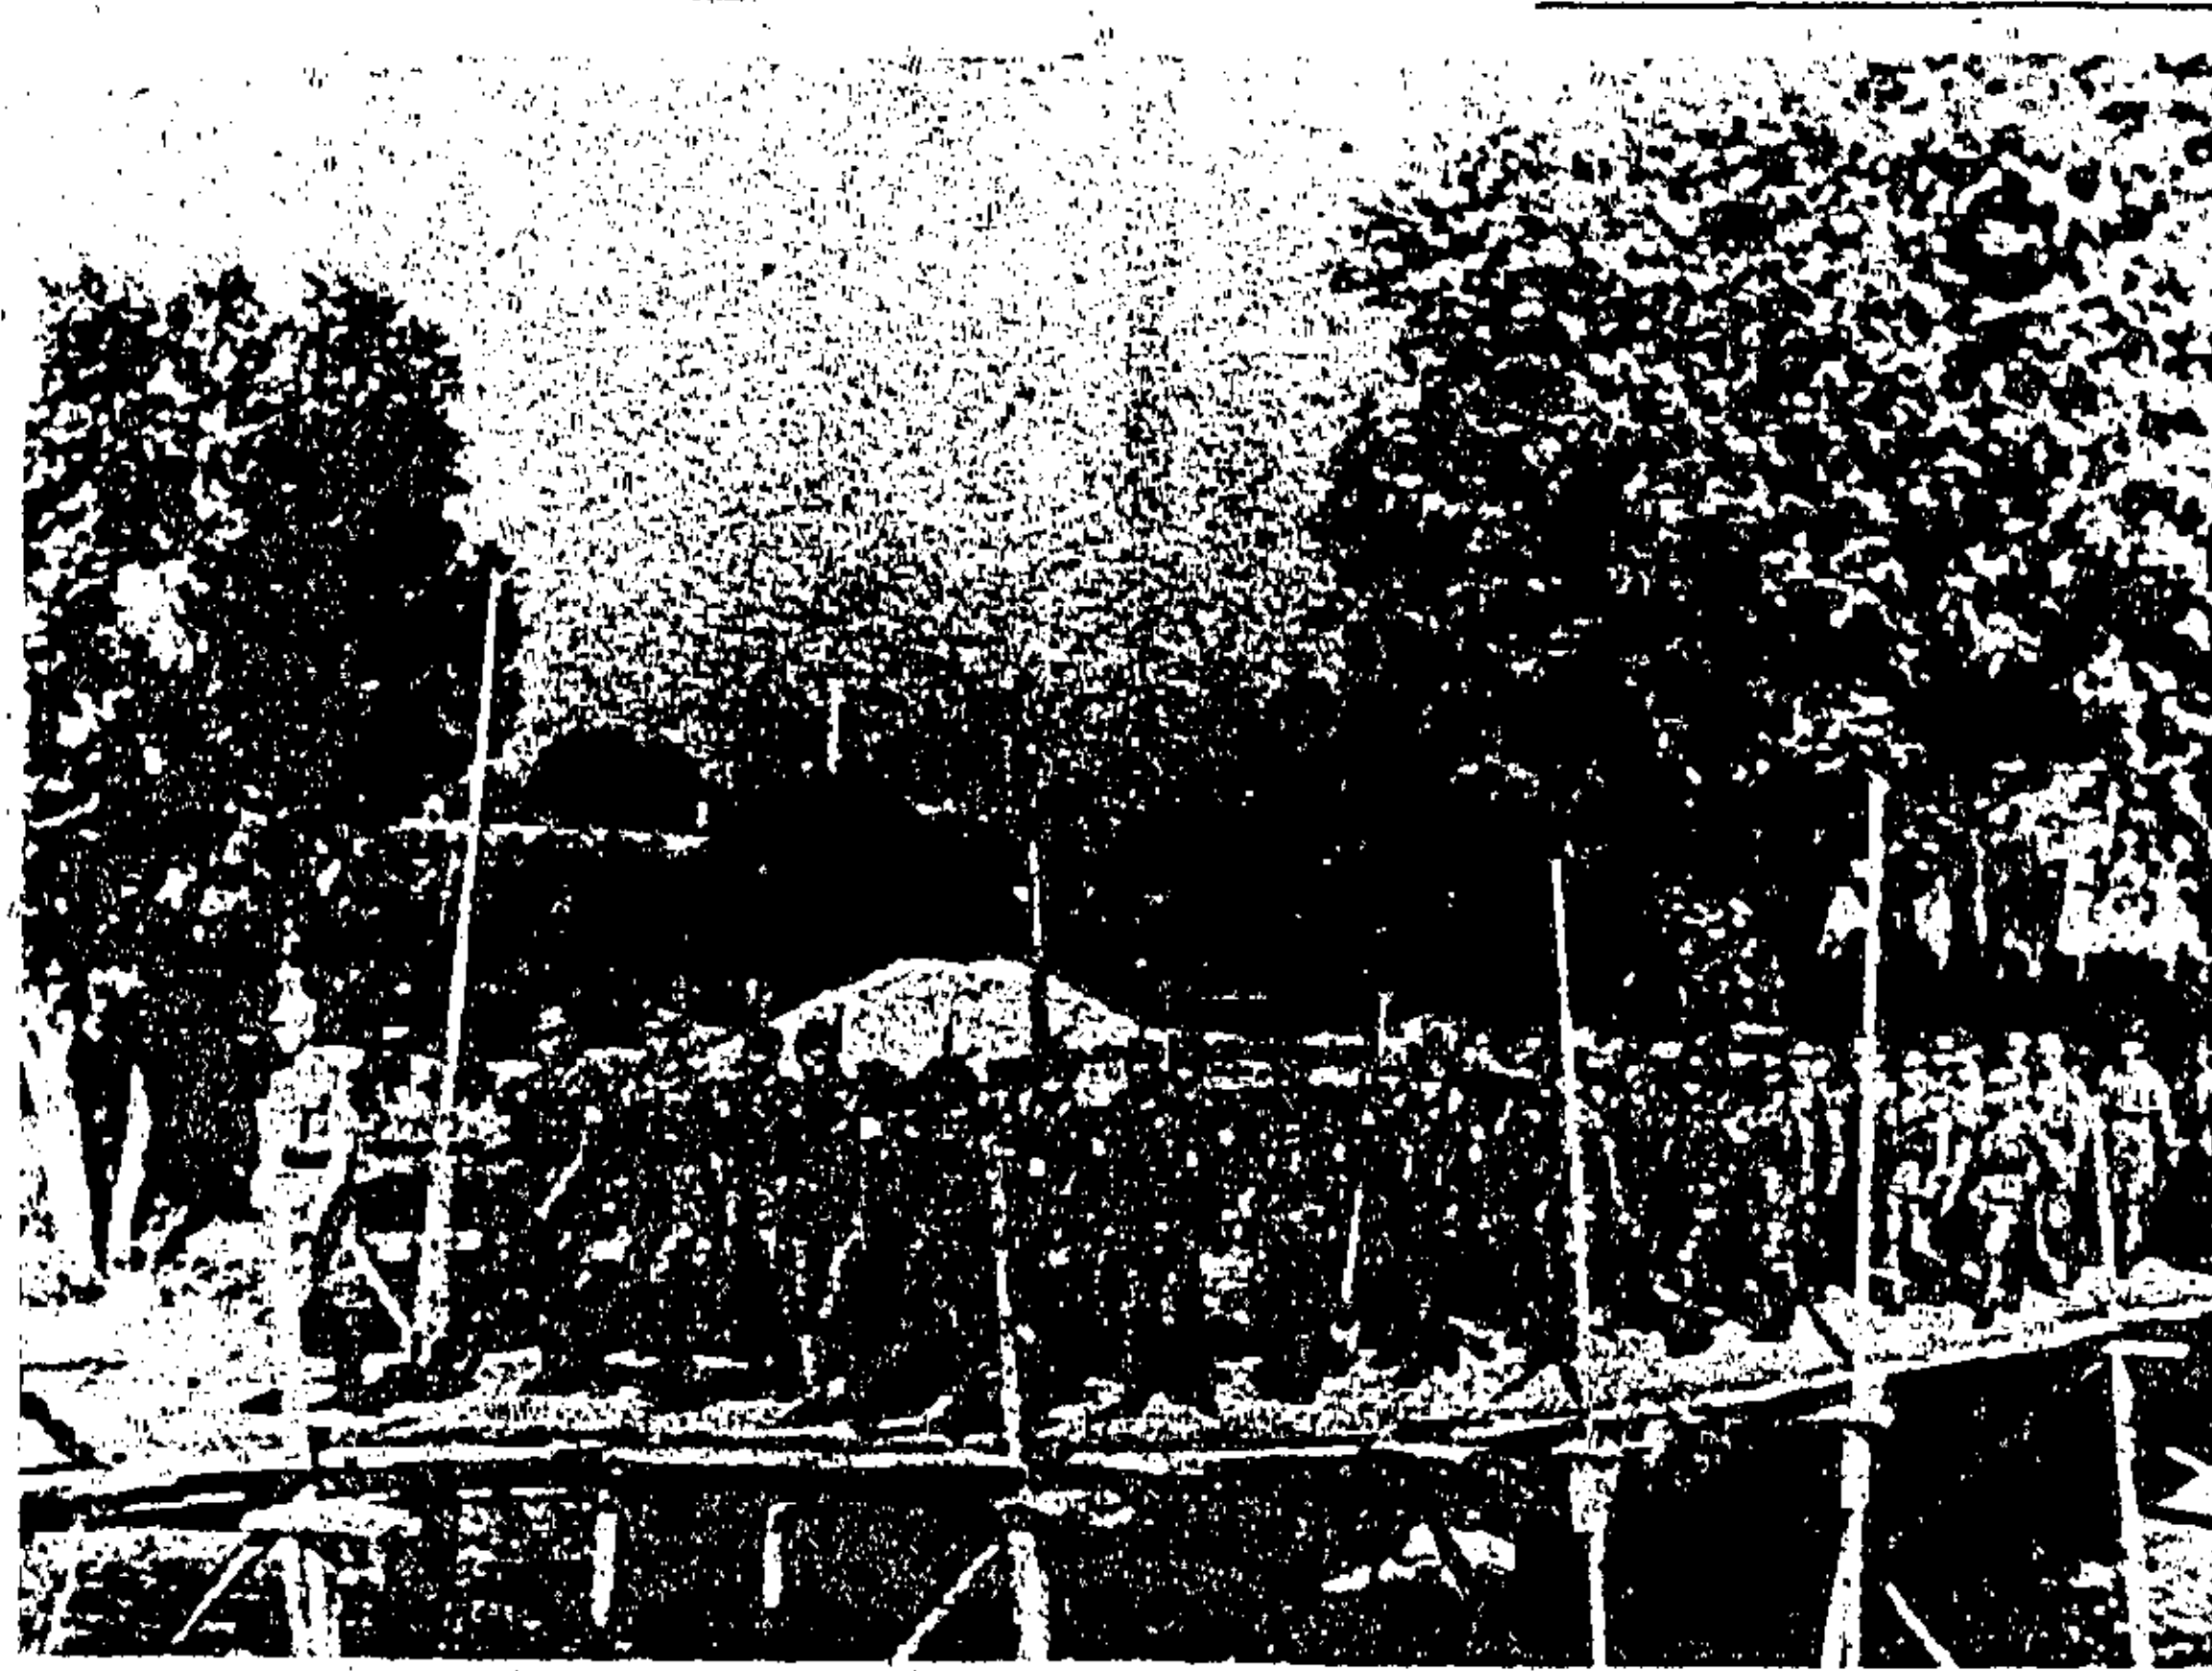

Japanese planes repeated their air holocaust this morning beginning from 7.40 when the first air alarm was given. It was later reported that Shikwan, Lokchong, Yingtak and Kuntien on the Canton-Hankow Railway were bombed. This is believed to be the longest continuous raid that Canton has ever experienced.

Canton itself suffered from three spasms of aerial bombardment, and the Christian Village on Honan Island, the Saichuen district, and the area near the Seventy-Two Martyrs Monuments were successively bombed in the course of the forenoon.—(Reuter and Central News).

JAPANESE FIRE ON CHUNGSHAN COAST

Canton, July 13. Apparently to test the strength of the Chinese defences along the Chungshan coast, five Japanese warships anchored at Subsemoon near Wongseum Island, opened fire on the mainland with machine-guns on Monday. Chinese defenders, however, did not return fire.—(Central News).

Japanese Reverse In Shansi

Sian, July 13. More than 100 Japanese were killed during a heavy engagement between a detachment of 400 Japanese and a Chinese regiment in the vicinity of Tungltsun east of Linfen on July 10, states a belated report received here. Pursuing the retreating invaders Chinese troops have now reached the western bank of the Fen River. Another report from Shansi states that 2,000 Japanese troops, retreating from Yangcheng eastward to Tsincheng, were waylaid by Chinese forces in the vicinity of Fellu, and lost about 100 men and many rifles.—(Central News).

SERIOUS DEVELOPMENTS IN JAPAN

Shanghai, July 13. Serious developments have broken out in Japan but the exact situation is not reported, according to a Tokyo message received here last night by foreign banking circles. Japanese troops in North China are being transferred back to the north of the Great Wall.—(International).

MORE CHINESE SUPPORT FOR HONG KONG TRAVEL ASSOCIATION NEEDED

Development Of Colony As Holiday Result Will Benefit All

"The development of Hong Kong as a holiday resort cannot fail to become, directly or indirectly, of value to everyone, whether he be the head of a large firm, or a small tradesman, or a rickshaw coolie. It is to be hoped therefore that those who realise the great potentialities of this organisation will continue to support it to the best of their ability," remarked Mr. E. I. Wynne-Jones, Chairman of the Hong Kong Travel Association, on the occasion of the third annual meeting of the Association held yesterday in the Urban Council Chamber.

ADVISED TO TAKE A COMPLETE REST

London, July 13. An announcement was made last night from York House, the residence of the Duke of Gloucester, as follows:—

"After a very busy year of many engagements the Duchess of Gloucester has been advised to take a complete rest and the Duke and Duchess, instead of going to Scotland this autumn, will shortly be leaving for Kenya. Their Royal Highnesses are expected to return to England early in November."

It is understood that the Duke and Duchess will not leave until early in August and that their engagements until then will not be interfered with.—(British Wire).

On behalf of members of the Board of Directors, the Chairman congratulated The Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall and Mr. J. H. Taggart, O.B.E., on the honours conferred on them by the King. He said the Board was proud of having members who had distinguished themselves so well in the social work of the Colony.

Addressing the meeting Mr. Wynne-Jones said:—

MANILA TAKES ANTI-CHOLERA MEASURES

Manila, July 13. In view of the cholera scare in China, the U. S. Quarantine Service has ordered, and to be effective from today, that all passenger vessels and freighters from Shanghai and Hong Kong must spend twenty-four hours outside the breakwater before being permitted to enter the harbour.—(Reuter).

VERDICT OF GUILTY IN PEAK MURDER HEARING

Medical Witness Complains Of Feeling Ill During Questions By Crown Counsel

Though the opinion had been offered by a well-known local physician and surgeon that at the time of the killing he was suffering from epileptic equivalent, and did not know what he was doing, or that he was doing wrong, Lam Chun, 30-year-old houseboy, was convicted by a jury and sentenced to death at the conclusion of the Peak Murder trial at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

The trial, which took three days, was a sequel to one of the most sensational murders in the history of the Colony's criminal records, for it was alleged by the Crown that prisoner had gone to the bedroom of his employers, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Challinor, of No. 499 The Peak, in the dead of night on May 5, and had brutally stabbed Mrs. Challinor to death, subsequently engaging in a struggle of 20 minutes with Mr. Challinor, during which both of them sustained serious injuries.

Robbery In West Point

A daring armed robbery occurred in West Point last night at about 10 minutes past nine, when three Chinese armed with knives forced their entry into the Sang Cheong Grocery shop at 41, Central Street, ground floor, and stole twenty dollars in subsidiary coins from the store.

The robbery was so sudden, that the manager of the shop a man named Tang Kwang, not realising that the men were armed, attempted to stop them in their act, and as a result he was stabbed. He was sent to hospital, though it is believed, not in a serious condition. After attacking the man, the three armed robbers ran towards Queen's Road West, and one of them was consequently arrested.

At the outset prisoner had tendered a plea which His Honour the Acting Chief Justice, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, had entered as 'not guilty', and his Council had raised the plea of insanity. In support of this Dr. M. O. Pfister, who stated he was mental consultant and had had experience in mental diseases, was called. Yesterday morning, under cross-examination, Dr. Pfister modified some of the opinions he had offered the day before. Later he complained of feeling ill and was permitted to leave the room for a rest while the Court adjourned.

On his 'return' he resumed answering Mr. J. Whyatt's questions but after a while again complained of not feeling well. As he was leaving the box Mr. Whyatt said he would not cross-examine further and after one reply to Mr. H. C. Macnamara, in re-examination, Dr. Pfister stood down.

CHINA TO PARTICIPATE IN WORLD'S FAIR

Hankow, July 13. It is officially announced that China will participate in the New York World's Fair, 1939, in response to an invitation of the American authorities.

Preparations under the charge of the Ministries of Economy and Education are already proceeding apace for the selection of choice Chinese goods and works of art for sending to New York for exhibition at the gigantic fair, which opens at Flushing Meadows on April 30, 1939.

Every effort is being made to ensure the China Hall at the World's Fair a success, and it is expected that at least 1,200 exhibits, representing the cream of Chinese objects of art and other products, will be placed on display.

Gate receipts to the China Hall, after deducting expenses, will be divided between China and America, and will be devoted to the promotion of Sino-American art and culture.—(Central News).

BLOW OUT AT FACTORY

In the course of, cleaning the ammonia pipe connected with the ice plant at the East Point factory of the Dairy Farm Company, a fracture suddenly blew out, with the result that one Chinese and Mr. A. D. Wylie, the European superintendent, were sent to hospital for treatment. Both received injuries about the knees.

Japanese Domination In China Will Mean The End Of Foreign Trade

London, July 13. The diplomatic correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says that from the beginning of the war Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's German military advisers repeatedly but unavailingly warned Nazi leaders against too pro-Japanese a policy. Now a confidential report to Berlin from the German Chamber of Commerce in Shanghai emphasises that Germany's favourable position in China before the war has completely changed. Not only have the lack of foreign currency, the Japanese refusal to allow the transfer of goods in Japanese occupied provinces, and the high premiums demanded by German insurance companies, as compared with other countries, damaged business, but the Chinese show a disinclination to buy German goods owing to Germany's political attitude. The German Chamber of Commerce, adds the diplomatic correspondent emphasises that Japanese domination in China will certainly mean the end of foreign trade whereas a free self-governing China will mean extraordinary openings. The Chamber begs to be consulted before the conclusion of contracts by the German Government with the Japanese or Manchukuo authorities. The Manchester Guardian adds that the Nazis, nevertheless, refuse to give up their pro-Japanese attitude, and believe that Japan will ultimately win but will be unable to colonise China without German assistance.—(Reuter).

STAPLES SURPRISES!

SANDWICHES FOR ALL OCCASIONS

For packed lunches, sandwiches have become almost universal fare and because in these instances, they are to form the basis of a meal, the bread should be cut from one-eighth to one-quarter of an inch thick. No picnic hamper is complete without its complement of sandwiches, and these too should be cut of a thickness to satisfy the appetite. Party sandwiches and fancy sandwiches, on the other hand, should be cut as thinly as possible.

It is quite impracticable to cut sandwiches from fresh bread, and stale bread being far from appetizing, strike a happy medium by choosing bread a day old.

It will be found that there is least wastage if a square sandwich loaf is used. It is a matter of opinion whether the crusts should be cut off before the bread is sliced or after the sandwiches are completed.

Buttering the bread before it is cut facilitates the process in sandwich making. If the butter is cold and hard it is impossible to spread without breaking the bread, so in cold weather it is advisable to warm or cream the butter before spreading.

For fillings that require mustard, it is a good plan to mix the required quantity of mustard with the butter to ensure an even distribution. Sandwiches are equally appetizing made in white or brown bread, while a combination of these two—one side white and the other brown—would give an effective note to the sandwich tray.

A popular luncheon dish served in many cafes is an American Club sandwich, which, supplemented with a cup of coffee, is a meal in itself. This is how it is made:

CLUB SANDWICH

Toast three slices of bread and cut in triangles. Butter. Lay two triangles side by side to form the bottom slice and cover with lettuce leaf. Spread with mayonnaise, and lay on slices of white meat or chicken, boiled or roasted. Cover with two toast triangles. On these lay several slices of crisp bacon and another lettuce leaf.

Cover with the last two toast triangles on top of which lay a generous slice of tomato, topped with a spoonful of mayonnaise. Lay two olives and two small pickles on plate beside the sandwich.

RUSSIAN CLUB SANDWICH

This is a miniature course dinner, beginning with fruit appetizer and ending with a sweet. Cut six thin, round slices of bread, the smallest an inch and a half in diameter and the largest four inches. Lay the largest slice on a plate and spread with jam. On it lay the next largest slice and spread with cream cheese. Then the next slice, buttered, and on this lay bacon or chicken with lettuce and mayonnaise.

On the fourth piece lay a slice of tomato and on the fifth a cucumber slice, each slice of bread being buttered and each vegetable having a covering of mayonnaise and lettuce. On the top piece of bread, unbuttered, lay a slice of banana or other fruit and crown with a stuffed olive. If the layers prove topply, they may be secured with toothpicks, but avoid this, if possible.

CHEESE DREAMS

Add one tablespoonful butter, one egg (beaten), 1 teaspoon mustard, 1 teaspoon paprika and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; well mixed to 2 cups grated cheese, and mix to a paste. Spread thick on pieces of bread and put a strip of bacon on top of each. Bake in a moderately hot oven from five to eight minutes. Serve hot with olives or pickles.

DATE-NUT SANDWICH

Mix 1 cup chopped dates with 3 tablespoons orange juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 cup finely chopped nuts. Spread between slices of wholewheat bread.

FIG SANDWICH

Put 1 lb. figs and 1 lb. raisins through chopper, add 1 cup sugar, juice of 1 lemon and 1 cup water. Stew until soft and thick, add 1 teaspoon vanilla and 3 crushed soda biscuits. This will keep well. Use on brown bread.

CAKE-MAKING AT HOME

The most inexperienced cooks can hardly fail to make a success of the following simple recipe. It is easily committed to memory, and will be found a good basis for a very large variety of cakes, both plain and fancy. It requires:

- 6 ozs. castor sugar,
- 3 ozs. flour,
- 5 eggs,
- 1 level teaspoonful baking powder,
- Pinch of salt.

Beat the eggs in a shallow bowl until frothy, add the sugar and salt and beat continuously for 15 minutes.

Sieve flour and baking powder together, and lightly drop it onto the egg-mixture all at one time, and then fold it into the mixture with light movements.

For a Plain Sponge Loaf have ready an oblong baking tin, about 8 x 5 inches, and 4 inches deep, greased with butter and dusted out with sieved flour. Pour the mixture into the tin, and bake in a moderate oven for 35-40 minutes. Remove from oven, dredge the top with castor sugar, and turn out to cool.

Lemon Sponge is made in exactly the same manner, with the addition of a teaspoonful lime juice and a teaspoonful grated lime-rind added at the same time as the flour. The flavour of this cake is much appreciated by invalids who are averse to anything sweet and "sickly."

Spiced Sponge is something of a novelty, and is made as above, adding a level teaspoonful mixed spice to the flour when it is sieved. If liked this may be baked in two shallow tins, of the same size, and sandwiched together when cold with whipped cream flavoured with strong black coffee. For sandwiches, do not dust with castor sugar while hot, but sprinkle liberally with sieved icing sugar just before serving.

Coffee Sponge is made by adding two teaspoonfuls coffee essence to the egg-mixture before folding in the flour, and then sandwiching

CREAMED SWEET BREADS

- 1 lb. sweetbreads
- 1 tbsp. vinegar or lemon juice
- 1 cup peas
- 2½ tbsp. butter
- 2½ tbsp. flour
- Pepper
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 cup Carnation milk
- 1 cup water

Soak the sweet breads in cold water for an hour. Cook until tender (about 20 minutes) in boiling water to which 1 tsp. salt, and 1 tsp. vinegar or lemon juice have been added. When tender plunge into cold water to harden. Remove membranes and cut or break into small pieces. Add the peas. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, seasonings, and Carnation milk diluted with 1 cup water. Add sweet breads and peas, reheat and serve in patty cases or on toast points. Diced chicken or mushrooms may be added, if desired. Serves 6.

the two cakes together when cooked, with a coffee filling, made as follows:

Mix 4 tablespoonfuls sieved icing sugar to a paste with 2 tablespoonfuls hot, strong black coffee, add a teaspoonful of butter, and beat together for a few minutes until cold.

Guava Jelly Roll is made as follows:

Bake the cake in a large shallow tin, about 12 x 9 ins. Have ready some warmed guava jelly, melted down just enough to allow of easy spreading. Turn the cake out onto a sheet of paper liberally sprinkled with castor sugar, spread quickly with a thin layer of jelly, and roll up the long way of the cake. This produces a thinner roll than that usually used for jam rolls. Leave the cake rolled up in the paper until quite cold—leaving the ends of the paper open, to avoid heaviness, then cut into two-inch lengths.

Guava Jelly Roll makes a delicious trifle pudding, with an unusual and agreeable flavour.

CUCUMBER SOUP

Chop roughly a large cucumber and a large onion and cook in butter for a few minutes, then add three pints of stock (veal stock is best), pepper, salt, a bay leaf, two cloves, six peppercorns, a bunch of parsley, and a blade of mace. Cover and simmer for half an hour. Then sprinkle in an ounce of semolina and simmer for another half an hour, stirring occasionally. Rub through a sieve, then put back in the saucepan with a teacupful of cream or evaporated milk and make very hot. Beat in the yolk of an egg, and stir over a low heat for a minute or two without boiling.

LEMON CREAM PIE

- 1½ cups sugar
- 1½ cups flour
- Few grains salt
- 1 cup Carnation Milk
- 1 tsp. grated lemon rind
- 5 tbsp. lemon juice
- 1 tsp. butter
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup water

Mix sugar, flour, and salt thoroughly, add lemon juice and water; add milk to dry mixture, stirring until well blended. Return to double boiler and cook for 25 minutes, stirring occasionally; add to well beaten egg yolks and continue cooking for 2 minutes; add butter, lemon juice and rind. Pour into baked pastry shell. Cover with meringue made by folding 2 tsp. sugar and 1 tsp. baking powder into 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Brown in a slow (300°F) oven. Makes 1 pie.

COOKERY TIPS

After boiling bacon, keep the water till next day, skim off any fat that has settled on the top, and use it for boiled puddings or plain cakes. It is just as good as dripping.

When mixing mayonnaise, stir briskly but evenly and always in the same direction.

To prevent eggs from bursting while boiling, prick one end with a needle before placing them in the water.

Cooked meat should be put in a clean dish, free from gravy. It should be covered with a wire cover or put in a meat safe. Particular notice should be paid to those parts which press on the dish.

Increased Unemployment In France Today

RESOURCES NOT KEEPING PACE WITH RISING COST OF LIVING

In the report for 1937 of the General Confederation of French Employers, it is stated that the general economic situation has resulted in increased unemployment. The number of assisted unemployed workers, which decreased steadily during the year 1937 until it had fallen to 300,000, is beginning to rise again. At the end of February, 1938, the figure was 412,386, or 2,167 more than the number registered on the same date in the previous year, although the enforcement of the 40-hour week has led to the engagement of 30,000 extra railway employees and more than 13,000 coal miners, and undertakings employing more than 100 workers have 180,000 more workers than they had a year ago.

The new production index published in the official statistics, which draws a comparison between the present situation and that of 1928, clearly shows, it is claimed, the extent of the economic depression. The general index, which rose from 50 to 93 from January to March 1937, was only 91 in December, a figure much lower than the index numbers of Great Britain, Germany and Italy.

Moreover, the general average was only reached owing to the increased activity, caused by the armaments programme, in the metallurgical industry and in metal works, mines, and electricity and gas undertakings between December, 1936, and December, 1937. On the other hand, production decreased considerably in the leather, motorcar, and paper industries and, since the beginning of 1938, in the textile industry. In building, the crisis was even more acute, the index number dropping from 76 to 58.

VICIOUS CIRCLE

The rise in prices, the report goes on to say, has resulted in demands for wage increases, which in their turn, have resulted in a fresh rise in prices, thus creating a vicious circle from which there seems to be no escape.

Moreover, while the cost of living is rising, the resources of the nation are not keeping pace with this rise, and the small amount of trade done by large commercial establishments during the early months of the year is a proof of a shrinkage on the home markets, which is due to the reduced purchasing power of all persons who only have fixed incomes or depend on falling industrial and commercial profits.

The transfer to the working population, owing to increases in wages, or a part of the resources of other classes of the nation has not benefited home consumption, since the additional costs to industry caused by the wage increases have resulted in a rise in prices so considerable as to nullify the pecuniary advantages which the working-classes should have enjoyed.

The lack of balance between purchasing power and the prices of manufactured articles is such that in many cases, even where the official committees which supervise prices have declared an increase to be justified, it has been impossible to enforce it owing to the refusal of purchasers to buy at the higher price.

AMERICAN MEMORIAL TO LATE KING

London, July 13.

A Memorial window was unveiled yesterday at Winchester Cathedral by Mr. Joseph B. Kennedy, U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain, in memory of the late King George V.

The window was presented by American citizens residing in England.

The American Ambassador said that King George V had a very warm and special place in the hearts of the American people.—(Reuter).

Charged With Robbing Her Four "Husbands"

A beautiful 21-year-old peasant girl, who is up for trial in Istanbul, is alleged to have absconded with most of the property of four "husbands" in less than a year.

Her first marriage was to a farm hand in her native village in Anatolia. Shortly afterwards, it is stated, she ran away with most of his belongings and succeeded in obtaining identification papers elsewhere under another name.

She then "married" a cobbler, but again disappeared after a short time.

"She" reached Adana undetected. Bearing a new name and, it is alleged, with a fake birth certificate, she became the wife of a cotton farmer there.

After two months she left him and came to Istanbul, where she was "married" to a greengrocer.

Her first husband, however, complained to the authorities that his wife had robbed him and run away. While in Istanbul she was discovered and arrested.

GREEK GODDESS OF MARRIAGE

A marble head of Hera, the ancient Greek goddess of marriage and birth, has been found during the excavations at the foot of the Acropolis in Athens.

The head is in a good state of preservation and will be placed in the temporary Museum on the site of the excavations.

A marble statue of Hermes has also been found at the bottom of a 75 foot well. It is in four pieces but in good preservation, and the task of reconstructing it has been entrusted to an expert.

The statue—A Greek copy of the Roman period—will also be placed in the temporary museum.

U.S. WAR MINISTER WARNS DICTATORS

"AGGRESSION MUST STOP"

Mr. H. H. Woodring, United States Secretary for War, speaking at a Chamber of Commerce meeting in Washington recently, said: "I warn Germany, Japan and Italy that if dictators push the democratic nations too far the result will be war."

The Japanese occupation of Manchuria in 1931, he said, began a chain of events that included German rearmament, the occupation of the Rhineland, the Italo-Abyssinian war, the Spanish war and the Japanese invasion of China.

"It is a fair inference," he continued, "that this chain of events was a direct result of the successful setting up by Japan, of the State of Manchukuo without any effective opposition from the democratic Powers. At the present moment the democracies are strongly pacifist, although they have not always been so."

"If pressed too far a wave of indignation may sweep over them and it might be extremely difficult to keep the peace. It is essential that this continued aggression should be halted before things get out of hand."

"Certainly some of the 'have-not' nations are suffering in their standard of living," he concluded, "but not because of scarcity of raw materials. They are using their foreign exchange for armaments. As they themselves said, they are buying guns instead of butter."—Exchange.

Chungking Unemployment

(Special Correspondent)

Chungking, July 9.

The unemployment in West China and especially Chungking these war days is most acute.

Several banks and larger firms have been calling for senior and junior clerks and offering wages between $18.00 and $40.00 a month. A candidate must frequently agree to work on probation for a three year term. The withdrawing, voluntary, of the employee during said term will only be permitted upon the refunding of all remunerations received to date of his resignation.

The position of senior clerkship requires a college degree or at least a senior middle school diploma with a certificate that he has had five years business experience. The applicant must be able to write both Chinese and English and must pass a test in accounting and commercial arithmetic. With these requirements in his possession a clerk can demand approximately $40 monthly.

Local banks at this time have been calling for junior clerks who have served their probation period. They are receiving wages from $22 to $28 a month.

There exists keen competition for such positions due to the number of unemployed in Chungking and those who have come into this city from the war zone in the lower Yangtze.

Licensed automobile drivers are in a good position today in Chungking. It is possible for them to receive wages from $23 to $40 a month plus room and board.

THE SERVICES

ROYAL NAVY

AGES OF NEW CAPTAINS

The number of promotions to captain in the half-yearly list is maintained at 15, to which it is increased in December, 1938. The zone for promotion is from four to eight years' seniority as commander, but this time the Admiralty have not gone below five years. The junior officer promoted was 20th on the commanders' list, on the two previous occasions, when promotions were made at 4 years, the juniors were 222 and 214 on that list.

The ages of the new captains are slightly less than in earlier lists, and include three officers under 40. The eldest, Captain J. T. Borrett, O.B.E., who entered Osborne in May, 1907, will be 44 on July 21; the youngest, Captain W. G. Andrews, who began at Osborne in September, 1912 was 38 on November 3.

Twelve of the new captains were cadets at Osborne, and the other three joined as special entry cadets, Captain B. C. Brooke with the first term in September, 1913; Captain H. G. Norman, with the second term in September, 1914; and Captain E. G. Jeffery with the fourth term in September, 1916. No promotions have been made from among the commanders promoted from the lower deck although six were in the zone.

AMERICA FLAGSHIP CRUISE

The following programme has been approved for the cruise to British Columbia of H.M.S. York, flagship of Vice-Admiral S. J. Meyrick, K.C.B., Vancouver, July 13-14; Prince Rupert, July 16-19; Wrangell, July 20-22; Esquimalt, July 25-August 3; Cowichan, August 8-10; Vancouver, August 10-18; and Comox, August 18-September 2. The York will return to Bermuda in mid-October, after visiting certain American ports.

TRAVELLING CONCESSION

The railway concessions for children approved last year have been extended to motherless children under 16 years of age of naval ratings and Royal Marines, including the R.N. Shore Signal and Shore Wireless Services and the R.M. Police, when travelling unaccompanied or in the care of a guardian. The guardian will be required to pay the normal fare.

METEOROLOGICAL COM-MENDATION

As a result of the examination of meteorological logs received in the Naval Meteorological Branch of the Hydrographic Department during the year ended March 31, Instructor-Commander W. A. Bishop, M.A., R.N., is commended for the useful information furnished in the log compiled for H.M.S. Amphion, flagship on the Africa Station. Instructor-Commander Bishop is Fleet Education Officer on this station and an interpreter in French.

DRAFTING OF RATINGS

A new system of drafting naval ratings to foreign and home sea service is announced in Fleet Orders issued yesterday. It is intended to ensure a more equitable distribution of foreign service over a shorter period than the present scheme provides, and to avoid any sudden changes in the expectation of service of senior ratings.

The basis of the scheme is that rosters for foreign service derived from the date of return from last foreign service should displace rosters for sea service (home or foreign) based on date of last return from sea. For drafting purposes service will be divided into the three categories of foreign service, home sea service, and port service (i.e., at home).

DUKE'S PLEA FOR EX-SOLDIERS

Must Find Work After Service

The Duke of Gloucester, speaking on recruiting at the Royal Hospital, Chelsea, recently, said the problems of national defence were assuming prominence in all minds.

He was addressing the National Association for the Employment of Regular Sailors, Soldiers and Airmen.

"The two aspects of defence, which naturally command the most serious consideration," he continued, "are the provision of personnel and the production of armaments."

"It is clear that recruitment on a voluntary basis requires that the conditions of the men's service shall be made as attractive as possible, and much is being done to this end. But it is of equal, or even greater, importance to ensure the resettlement of ex-Regulars after the completion of their service."

"This obligation is insufficiently recognised as yet by the community as a whole. The National Association has been dealing with this problem for over half a century, and with progressive success. The result of its work, the finding of 43,598 positions, is a noteworthy achievement."

MINISTRY'S CO-OPERATION

The Duke said that the main factors contributing to this success had been the sound organisation and businesslike methods of the association, the increasing good will of employers, and the close

"BABA'S BABY NOT SARAWAK HEIR"—RANEE

Her mother, the Ranee of Sarawak, denied recently that Princess Baba's baby—if a son—would be heir to the throne of Sarawak.

The denial came a few hours after Princess Baba, wife of Bob Gregory, the all-in wrestler, and daughter of Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, Rajah of Sarawak, had announced in San Francisco that she is expecting a child.

The Ranee of Sarawak telephoned the Daily Mirror: "Please contradict my daughter's statement that the baby she is expecting, if a son, will be heir to the throne."

"The announcement was a surprise to me."

"Whatever child she has will definitely inherit nothing from Sarawak. Her statement is very upsetting to the Rajah's brother, the Tuan Muda. He is my husband's heir, and his son will succeed him."

"If he has no children, the son of Lady Incheape, my eldest daughter, will inherit Sarawak."

co-operation of the Ministry of Labour.

The employment exchanges, however, could not give preference to those men over any other class, and it was for the association's job-finders to make known the claims and qualifications of ex-Regulars to the employers.

In this way the association formed a vital link between the men of the Services and the civil community.

Nazis Grant British Jews Property Rights

Jews of British nationality were required to register their property situated in Germany, but the administrative authorities will refrain from enforcing the registration procedure in the case of Jewish property owned by British subjects provided they were domiciled outside Germany and were not emigres of former German nationality, says The Bulletin.

Foreign Affairs gave that reply to Mr. Thomas Williams (Lab.—Don Valley) in the House of Commons recently, who asked the position of Jews of British nationality who held property in Germany or Austria.

An assurance had also been given, said Mr. Butler, that if the question arose of legalising the property so registered, each case would be examined to see whether the rights guaranteed to British subjects under the Anglo-German commercial treaty of 1924 were affected.

Mr. Tom Williams—May I ask whether the Minister is satisfied that these terms are consistent with H.M. Government's desires?

Mr. Butler—As far as we can carry them out under the treaty and the German law.

Mr. Tom Williams—In view of the fact that Germany is supposed to be a friendly nation, is not the Government entitled to expect that British subjects should be treated as British subjects?

Mr. Butler—I think it would be wrong to suppose that the answer given to us is not couched in friendly terms.

Mr. Maxton (I.L.P.—Bridgeton)—Is this not similar to the case of Mexico, and why the difference of treatment in the two cases?

Mr. Butler—I cannot accept it that the circumstances in the two cases are similar.

BEHIND SCENES OF A NEWSPAPER

The Lord Mayor of London, Sir Harry Twyford, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Ennis Twyford, and the Sheriffs, Col. R. W. Eaton and Major W. H. Champness, visited the offices of The Daily Telegraph and Morning Post recently.

They were received by Lord Camrose, Col. the Hon. E. F. Lawson, and the Editor, Mr. A. E. Watson.

Each of the processes involved in the production of a great newspaper was inspected in turn.

After observing the successive stages by which page-plates are cast in the foundry for the giant printing presses they finally watched The Daily Telegraph and Morning Post being printed on presses each capable of producing a 40-page newspaper at the rate of 40,000 an hour.

NEW HEADMASTER OF CHELTENHAM

Mr. John Bell, High Master of St. Paul's School since 1927, has been appointed Headmaster of Cheltenham College.

The appointment was announced recently by Viscount Lee of Fareham, as President of Cheltenham College Council.

Mr. Bell's appointment at the age of 47 follows the sudden death in March of Mr. A. G. Pitt, who became Headmaster of Cheltenham only last year. He hopes to take up his new duties in September.

"YOU AND ME"

A dramatic story of ex-convicts out on parole and forbidden to marry, is the powerful theme of the new Sylvia Sidney-George Raft film, "You and Me," which is, at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres today.

The story deals with the struggles of Miss Sidney and Raft to keep an ideally happy marriage together, despite their extreme poverty, and Miss Sidney's secret knowledge that she is an ex-convict, out on parole, and forbidden marital rights.

Other players who do their share to make this film good entertainment are Barton MacLane, Robert Cummings, Warren Hymer, Harry Carey and George E. Stone. Two old favourites of the silent days are also cast in bit parts in the picture, Jack Mulhall and Julia Faye.

ANCIENT EUROPE REBUILT IN A U.S. MUSEUM

Castles, Churches, 1,000 Years Old

The remains of monasteries, churches and castles, some of which were built in France and Spain 1,000 years ago, will officially take their place in New York's famous skyline with the opening of a unique museum to be known as the Cloisters.

This has been presented to the public by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. It is a branch of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and stands on a rocky ledge near the northern tip of Manhattan Island in 56 acres, which Mr. Rockefeller bought for $1,230,000 and gave to the city as a park.

The actual building, some of the stone for which was quarried near Genoa, has cost approximately $2,500,000. Mr. Rockefeller has even protected the view by paying $1,938,000 for an 11-mile strip of land on the high rock cliffs forming the opposite bank of the Hudson. This also is to be made a park.

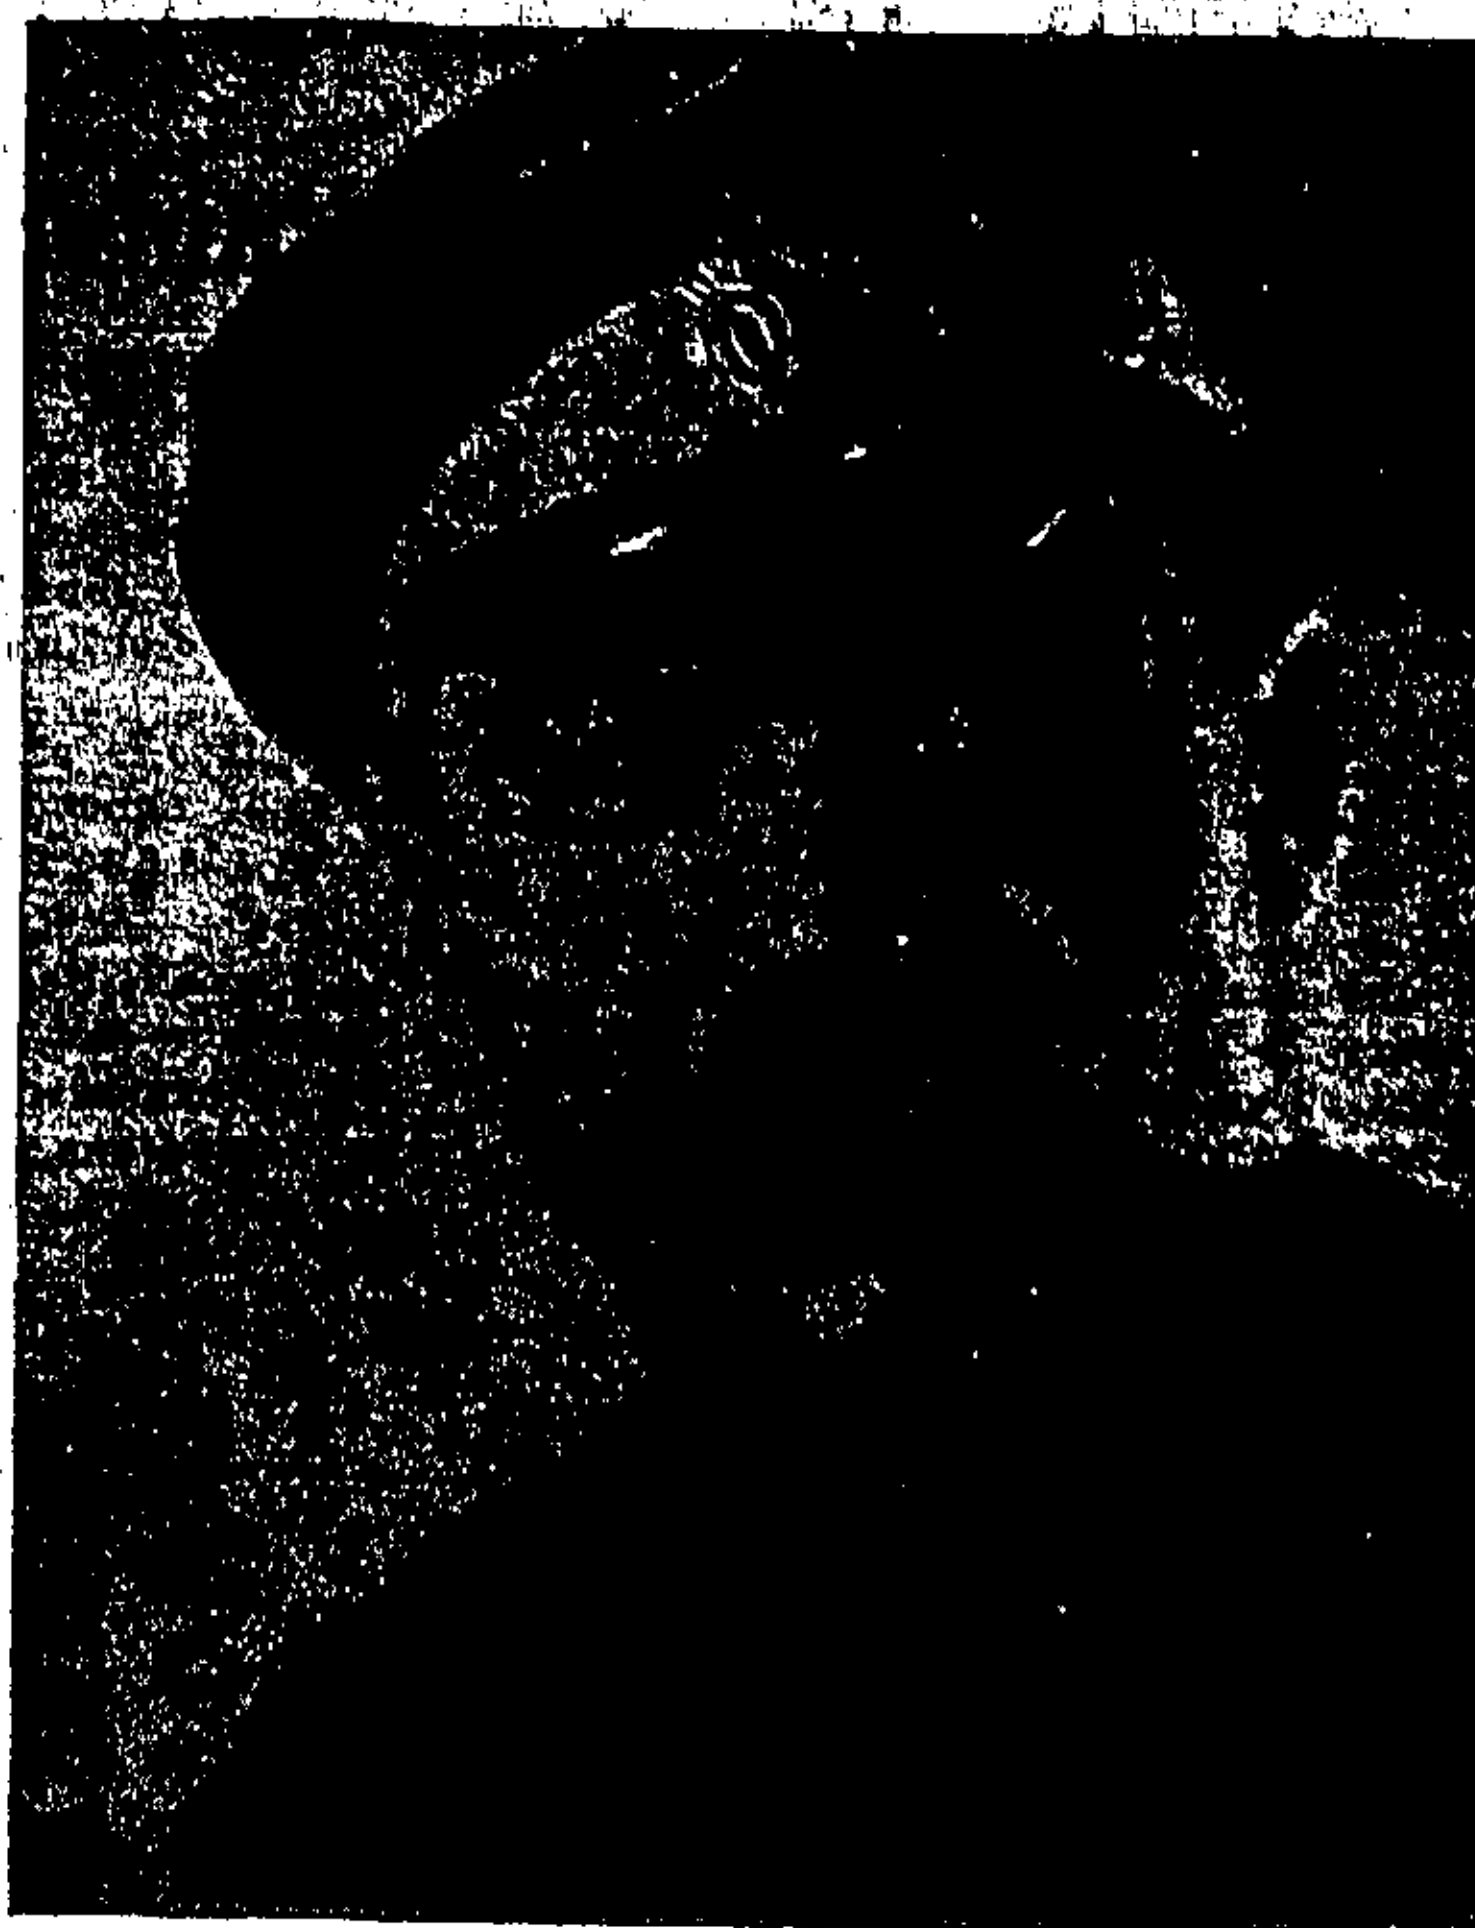

The value of the works of art incorporated, or displayed in the museum certainly exceeds $1,000,000.

OLD WORLD IN THE NEW

In 1925 Mr. Rockefeller provided the Metropolitan Museum with funds to buy the material, which dates mainly from the 12th and 13th centuries, and was retrieved from French and Spanish barns, pigsties, churches, and monasteries.

Fragments of the ruined French monasteries of Saint-Michel-de-Cuxa, Saint Guilhem-le-Desert, Bonneton-en-Comminges, Trie and Frouville form the nucleus of the collection. They have been perfectly reconstructed, round delightful fountains and the visitor finds it difficult to believe, as he strolls down these peaceful arcades, that he has not suddenly been transported from the New World to the Old.

COSSACK CHOIR MUSIC DIRECTOR

Nicholas Kostukoff, musical director of Gen. Platoff's Don Cossack Choir, due in Hong Kong in September.

COSSACK CHOIR DUE HERE

General Platoff's world famous sensational Don Cossack Choir, consisting of 25 Russian singers and dancers, is due for a short season at the Queen's Theatre in the early autumn—from September 1 to 5, next. After that they will be featured at the Hong Kong Hotel.

The Choir was formed 11 years ago in Czechoslovakia under the patronage of the late President Masaryk and has since performed in many countries. It has a repertoire that includes the best Russian traditional airs, old Cossack songs and lullabies.

The Choir has been on tour since 1926, visiting South Africa, New Zealand, Australia, South America, Singapore and Rangoon.

Kill And Cure

Jack Pollin's dog had fits, so he had it shot at Chilquin, Oregon.

A few days later, the dog reappeared. Mrs. Pollin was so startled that she fainted.

The bullet had only creased the dog's skull. Moreover, the animal no longer had fits.

Right To Divorce

Dr. Deshmukh, who sponsored the Hindu women's right to inheritance in the Central Assembly, has given notice of another bill of a far-reaching character affecting the Hindu women's right to divorce.

The Bill seeks to allow Hindu women to seek divorce in certain cases, for example, when the husband is suffering from incurable disease, is insane, or congenitally impotent, etc.

The Bill has been given notice of to be introduced at the next session of the Central Assembly.

MEASLES GERM FOUND

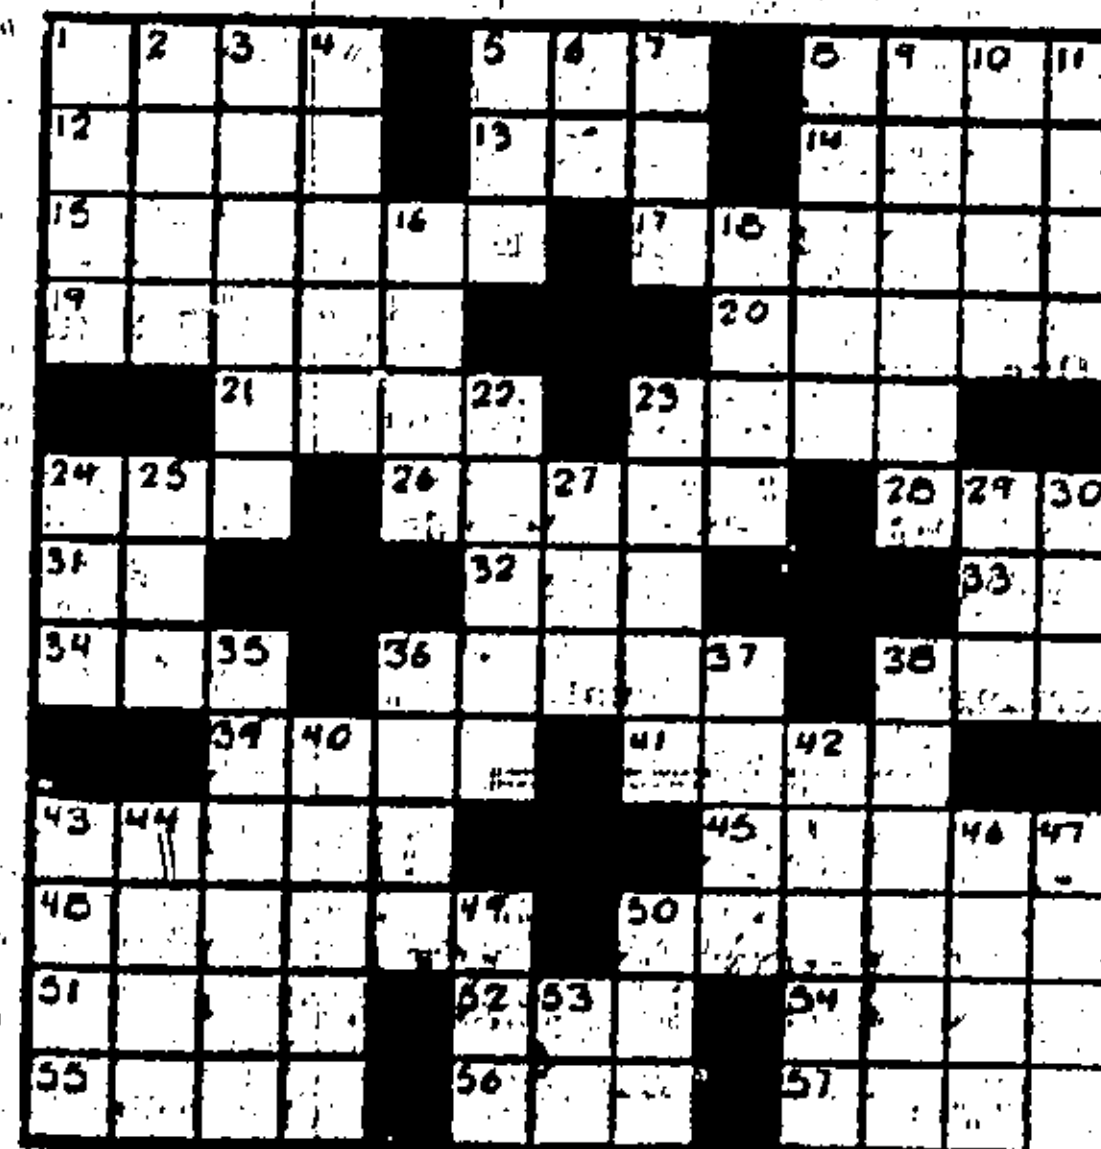

Dr. Harry Plotz, American physician connected with the Pasteur Institute, Paris, claims he has discovered the germ responsible for measles.

He announced his discovery in a paper read before the French Academy of Medicine.

FOOT ITCH

Athlete's Foot

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. E-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form, and the skin cracks and peels. After a while, the itching becomes intense, and you feel as though you would like to scratch off all the skin.

Beware of It Spreading

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The skin also cracks and peels, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or groin of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary germicides, antiseptics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

HERE'S HOW TO TREAT IT

The germ that causes the disease is known as Tinea Trichophyton. It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 15 minutes of boiling to kill the germ; so you can see why ordinary remedies are unsuccessful.

H. F. was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the tissue of the skin where the germ breeds.

ITCHING STOPS IMMEDIATELY

As soon as you apply H. F. you will find that the itching is immediately relieved. You should paint the infected parts with H. F. night and morning until your feet are well. Usually this takes from three to ten days, although in severe cases it may take longer or in mild cases less time.

H. F. will leave the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief, especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

FOUR JAPANESE SHIPS SUNK IN YANGTSE

Repeated Chinese Raids On Naval Concentration

Hankow, July 13.

Four Japanese warships were sunk, two heavily damaged and one plane shot down during three Chinese terrific air raids on Japanese naval concentrations in the Yangtse River, yesterday, according to an official communiqué.

During each raid Japanese pursuit planes took to the air to challenge the Chinese aircraft. However, the raiders out-manoeuvred them and shot one of them down. One Chinese plane was also damaged.

In the first raid, an unknown number of Chinese machines bombed a concentration of 23 Japanese warships in the Yangtse between Anking and Tungliu, about 40 kilometres south. Three vessels were sunk and two others heavily damaged.

No sooner had the Chinese machines dumped their missiles than 12 Japanese pursuit planes arrived and attacked them. A thrilling air combat ensued. One of the Chinese planes was damaged, but all the others returned safely to their base.

RETURN VISIT

The second raid was a return visit to the concentration of seven large-sized and seven small-sized Japanese warships at Anking. Japanese anti-aircraft batteries on the shore and aboard the warships fired heavily at the raiders and again Japanese pursuit planes came to challenge them.

The raiders immediately emptied their bomb racks and engaged the enemy planes. After a brief dog-fight all the Chinese planes returned to their base without damage.

THIRD RAID

The third raid was staged against a concentration of 18 large-sized and 8 small-sized Japanese warships below Kweichih. After dumping their explosives, the Chinese airmen sighted one of the larger vessels sinking.

A squadron of Japanese pursuits then suddenly appeared. The Chinese planes ascended higher and dived down to attack them. One of the Japanese pursuits was shot down in flames whilst the others were repulsed. The Chinese planes returned in safety.

PLANE DOWN AT NANCHANG

Nanchang, July 13.

Whilst conducting reconnaissance over Nanchang yesterday morning a lone Japanese plane was brought down by Chinese anti-aircraft gun fire.

Reports from Kuikiang state that three Japanese planes raided the city yesterday. About 20 bombs were dropped. However, damage was negligible.

Extensive reconnaissance was conducted by Japanese planes over Yushan on the Chekiang-Kiangsi Railway, Hsingtze on the Loyang Lake, and other places in Kiangsi during the day, the reports added.

FRANCE TAKES POSSESSION

Tokyo, July 13.

In a note which the French Ambassador in Tokyo handed to the Japanese Foreign Minister yesterday, the French Government officially notifies the Japanese Government that it has taken possession of the Paracel Islands.

In exercise of their sovereign rights the French authorities in Indo-China recently sent administrative and police officials to the islands, says the note, which further emphasises that France will not interfere with Japan's economic interests in the Islands, for example her fisheries and the gathering of phosphate fertilisers.

THE PROBLEM OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA

Daladier Believes Can Be Settled Peacefully

Paris, July 13.

The conviction that the Czechoslovakian problem can be solved by peaceful collaboration between England, France and Germany was voiced by the Premier, M. Edouard Daladier, at a banquet of the Provincial Society here last night.

M. Daladier declared that Germany's peaceful intentions had assisted in overcoming the crisis of May and that the French Government had full confidence in the peaceful aims of the Reich.

Speaking at length on the incidents of the past months in Central Europe, the Premier declared that from all appearances Europe was on the verge of a serious crisis and catastrophe, but thanks to goodwill and co-operation from all sides it was avoided.

Declaring that the Czech Government is now making serious attempts to adjust the difference of the minorities, Premier Daladier asserted that he had never believed in the inevitability of war and that this new experience enabled one to look to the future with more confidence.

Correspondent Threatened By Japanese

SLAPPING INCIDENT IN PEIPING

Peiping, July 13.

The British Embassy is making representations to the Japanese Embassy concerning the veiled threats made by a Japanese Staff Officer, Major Shigeyasu, against the personal safety of Reuter's correspondent here.

Mr. Frank Oliver, the correspondent concerned, formerly employed in Hong Kong, refused to endorse the findings of Japanese investigators which are an opposite conclusion to Mr. Oliver's eye-witness report of the slapping of the wife of the Governor of Hopei.

Mrs. Kai Ling-wei was twice slapped by a Japanese sentry at the railway station because she had smoked a cigarette.

"AROUSING SOME FEELING"

The correspondent offered to publish the Japanese version of the affair but the officer who interviewed him said this would not be sufficient. The correspondent, he said, must endorse the Japanese investigations, although Mr. Oliver had no connection with the findings.

The officer added that the matter had "aroused some feeling and your personal safety may be endangered."

INCOME TAX EVASION

Two American Magnates Are Accused

Washington, July 13.

Two of America's greatest financiers, John Jacob Raskob and Pierre Du Pont, were accused yesterday by the United States Board of Tax Appeals of evading income tax amounting to over U.S. $1,000,000 in 1929.

The Board of Tax Appeals alleges that the two financiers evaded taxation by "paper transactions" in securities.

Raskob, who visited Hong Kong in March, 1935, as a round-the-world passenger aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain, was formerly Vice-President of General Motors Corporation, and took the post of National Chairman of the Democratic Party in 1928. Shortly afterwards, however, he split with President Roosevelt and became one of the founders of the Liberty League.

Pierre Du Pont is Chairman of the famous munitions firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours.

"TOO REMARKABLE"

The Board of Tax Appeals has left the exact amount of taxes to be determined later. It is estimated that Raskob might be involved to the extent of about $1,000,000 and du Pont to about $900,000.

The claim made on behalf of the two financiers that the stock transactions between them were bona fide is described by the Board as "entirely too remarkable for belief."

MANY JEWS LEAVING AUSTRIA

JAPAN'S THIRD OFFENSIVE IN SHANSI

Peiping, July 13.

With the arrival of reinforcements, the Japanese army in Shansi has begun its third large-scale campaign in that province since November, launching a general offensive from south of Pingyang, across the Fen River. Pingyang is in the middle of the southern quarter of Shansi.

Official reports reveal that several Japanese garrisons in this area have been beleaguered for two months, and that planes have dropped food and ammunition to them, as the Chinese had cut all other means of communication.

The Japanese declare the Chinese divisions in the southern section of Shansi will be "annihilated."

PREVENTION OF EVICTIONS ORDINANCE

INTERESTING POINT RAISED

An interesting point, involving the new Prevention of Evictions Ordinance, was raised in the Summary Court yesterday morning, when the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, had to decide whether business premises in which folks slept constituted a dwelling place.

The question arose out of an action for possession of the ground floor of No. 2, Wai San Lane, rented by the Lin Heung Tea Shop, brought by Wong Sing-fai, Wong In-kai, and W. C. Hung, trustees of Mrs. Yeung Ah Ho's Settlement.

Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ, for defendant, pleaded that the case came under the new Prevention of Evictions Ordinance as it was a dwelling place, wherein the folks of the tea shop slept.

Mr. W. A. Mackinlay stated that the premises were let to defendant for the purpose of storing furniture and not for a dwelling house.

After evidence was given, and several law authorities referred to by the legal representatives of both sides, the Acting Puisne Judge decided in favour of plaintiffs, with costs, ordering the premises to be given up on August 24 next, with mesne profits.

DID NOT STAMP RECEIPTS

Four Fined At Central

A fine of $75 was imposed on Yip Nai by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday for failing to stamp a receipt for the sum of $19.90.

Detective-Sergeant Granger of the Revenue Department, told the Court that the actual sum received by the defendant $20.05 as recorded in the daily cash book. In order to save the cost of ten cents defendant had given a wrong figure in the receipt.

CARELESSNESS

Pleading guilty through Mr. S. Ng Quinn for a similar offence, Mrs. Ng Wong-shui, of No. 9, Arbutnot Road, was fined $15. Mr. Ng Quinn said that failure to stamp the receipt was due to carelessness rather than to intention. His client had been issuing receipts to her tenants before, but on this occasion had forgotten to do so.

For similar offences, Tang Wai-sun, of No. 25, Connaught Road Central, and Chan Chan-yu, were each fined $15.

SOLD LIQUOR AFTER CLOSING

Fine For Proprietor Of Restaurant

The proprietor of the Tai Sam Yuen Restaurant, No. 429, Hennessy Road, Wanchai, was fined $50 by Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday for allowing intoxicating liquor to be supplied to customers during prohibited hours, namely at 3.10 a.m. on July 4.

On another summons for permitting the customers to participate in the game of "Chai Mui," defendant was cautioned.

Sergeant Rathwell said he was on patrol duty early that morning, he heard excessive noises coming from the restaurant and, on entering the premises, found well over 70 persons having a party there. About 24 persons were participating in the game.

Mr. Hin-shing Lo appeared appeared for the defence.

FORGED PASSAGE TICKETS

Seven Men Charged At Central

Appearing on remand before Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday, the seven men, who were charged with either possession of or uttering forged complimentary passage tickets of the Sze Yap Shipping Company, were again remanded.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan, who appeared to prosecute, requested Mr. Edwards that the men might be grouped in three for trial to save time.

Acting Detective-Inspector L. R. Whant and Detective-Sergeant J. Hunter are in charge of the case.

The defendants are:— Chan Ming, 39, Cheung Wo, 30, and Ma Sau, 40, will be tried on July 21, 2.30 p.m.

Cheung Wo, Ma Sau, Cheung Man 58, and Cheung Chun-lai, 52, were remanded for hearing.

The last group, Ma Sau, Chu Tai-shun, 48, and Li Sing, 55, were also remanded for a week, and will be tried on July 25, 2.30 p.m.

PLEASANT SYRUP BEVERAGES

NOIROT'S EXTRACTS INTRODUCED HERE

At Lane Crawford's (Grocery Department) this week free glass samples of the well-known Noirot fruit extract of all kinds of French liqueurs may be had by anybody wishing to sample this very pleasant drink that has just been introduced to Hong Kong.

The syrups may be obtained in bottles of 50 cents each and the process of turning this into ready-made beverages is so simple that the work may well be left to the "boy" or "amah."

Booklets describing the many ways into which these syrups may be put into use, are given away free by Messrs. Lane Crawford or the agents, The Quality Products Company, who have their offices at No. 8, Des Voeux Road Central, top floor. The manager will personally attend to any inquiry.

Last but by no means the least—these are non-alcoholic drinks but for those who may be so disposed a drop of brandy may be put into each glass to "season to taste"—and turn these non-alcoholic drinks into real, delicious French liqueurs.

HEROIN OFFENDER SENTENCED

Sentence of six months' hard labour and a fine of $725 or, in default, a further six months' imprisonment was imposed by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday on Lam Hing, 22, appearing on a charge of possession of heroin pills on July 5 at No. 437 Shanghai Street.

Revenue Officer Warden informed the court that the house was raided and eight smokers at the time were on the premises. The place was being used as a divan, paraphernalia for smoking being found.

BURGLARS SENT TO PRISON

Appearing on two charges of burglary at No. 238 Queen's Road and No. 140 Connaught Road Chu Wan-po, 23, unemployed, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday.

Ng Hung kwai, who was charged with having been responsible for one of the burglaries and aiding and abetting in the other, was also given the same term.

Two other unemployed who were charged with aiding and abetting and receiving stolen property pleaded not guilty and were discharged.

DEMANDED MONEY WITH MENACES

Laundryman Given Gaol Term

Sentence of four months' hard labour was imposed on an unemployed laundryman, Li Cheung, when he was found guilty on the charge of demanding money with menaces from a shop foki by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday. Defendant also appeared on an alternative charge of intimidation.

Detective-Sergeant Bentley, who prosecuted said that complainant, Li Tang, while having his meal in the Hop King Loon furniture shop, on July 4, was approached by three strangers, amongst whom was defendant, who accused him of having failed to pay a gambling debt.

FORCED INTO DIVAN

Li Tang then left the tea house, but was immediately followed by the three, who forced him into a heroin divan in Spring Garden Lane where they demanded a sum of $14.50 as fee to join a society.

Seeing no way out, complainant gave him $7 and his address as demanded.

The following day, Li Tang was taken out for a walk by the defendant, who took him to a laundry shop. Defendant gave him a card which bore the name of a society.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT

On July 7 defendant visited Li Tang again in the shop and demanded the remaining sum of $7.50. Upon his refusal, defendant attempted to assault him. A few folks of the complainant came to his assistance and arrested defendant.

CHARGE WITHDRAWN

The case in which Chu Wan-fun, who at a previous hearing pleaded not guilty to a charge of fraudulent conversion of 28 steel bars valued at $485.20, entrusted to him to deliver to the Kowloon Docks, on April 13 last, was concluded before Mr. Barnett at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday when Mr. M. A. da Silva, for the prosecution, applied for the charge to be withdrawn.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan, for the defence, asked that if the charge was withdrawn, defendant should be discharged without any stain on his character.

His Worship dismissed the charge against defendant.

HEROIN DIVAN RAID SEQUEL

Sentence of twelve months' hard labour and a fine of $2000 or, in default, six months' imprisonment was imposed by Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court yesterday on Mak King-lau, 30, who admitted that he was paid 50 cents a day to look after a heroin divan in Shanghai Street.

Revenue Officer E. T. Warden prosecuted, said that the house was raided on July 5. The whole place was a distributing centre for heroin pills. 4,016 pills were found in defendant's possession and twenty-three smokers were caught.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

Judgment was reserved by the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, in the Summary Court yesterday, in the steam-launch charter dispute, in which So Lo-chai and Lam Hing sued the Tu Foo Kee, and Lu Foo and Lu Kam-tin, partners therein, for the sum of $507.

The plaintiffs were represented by Mr. C. A. Sutherland Russ while Mr. O. E. C. Marton, was for the defence.

WINE DEALER FINED

Pleads Guilty To Four Offences

A fine of $100 was imposed by Mr. Macfadyen on Li Hee, licensee of a wine shop in Sa Po Road, when he pleaded guilty to four summonses in connection with offences under the Liquors Ordinance at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning.

Defendant stated that his accountant was to blame, but being the licensee, he had to take the responsibility.

Revenue Officer E. T. Warden said that defendant's shop had been visited on June 14 and the books examined.

The first summons, for failing to record correctly in the Stock Book the amount of a sale, was taken out when it was found that a sale of 32 gallons of spirit had been entered only as a sale of one gallon.

It was also discovered that 42 gallons of spirit had been sold to a person on March 17 when under the condition of the licence, not more than eight gallons should be sold to the same person on the same day.

The other two summonses were applied for because the particulars of a sale had not been filled in and a distilling pass had not been cancelled in the proper manner.

RADIO WITHOUT LICENCE

For possessing a radio set without the necessary permit or licence from the authorities, a woman named Kwok Wai-hin, residing at No. 36 Jordan Road, was fined $50 by Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday.

Defendant stated that she had been in Hong Kong for a year, and did not quite know the regulations. The radio had only been procured four days before her place was visited by Mr. Keys.

Remarking to defendant that since she had been in the Colony for a year, she ought to have known that this was a serious offence against the Government, His Worship imposed the fine as stated.

ANOTHER CASE

Yu Si-chuen, residing at No. 42 Village Road, Happy Valley, was fined $100 by Mr. Butters at the Central Court yesterday for possession of radio apparatus without a licence.

Mr. A. E. E. Jeffries was in charge of the case. Defendant's plea that the apparatus discovered in his premises was not in working order was not accepted by the Magistrate, who pointed out that the Telecommunications Ordinance prohibited the possession of any apparatus without the necessary licence.

Defendant, it was stated in Court, had a licence which expired on December 31. He had failed to renew it.

Defendant snatched the money and ran, but Ho and Singh intercepted him and handed him to the police.

RECLAMATION SCHEME FOR SHENSI

To give work to a large number of war and flood refugees who have been swarming in various places in Shensi, the provincial authorities have mapped out plans for the reclamation of large areas of uncultivated land near Yenpingchen on the Szechwan-Shensi border.

The plans have been submitted to the Central Government for approval, with a request that initial appropriations be given for starting the work. As a measure for increasing interior productivity, the Reconstruction Department of the Shensi Provincial Government is planning the establishment of a cement factory at Palsui in south Shensi on the border of the Lo River.

Regulations for the proposed factory, it is understood, have been drafted. When established, the factory will be a commercial enterprise under government supervision. (Central News).

WAR AGAINST DISEASE

CHINA'S millions in and near the war zone are exposed to unseen and deadly dangers, and the services of an army of doctors, nurses and workers will be needed to protect the nation from being decimated from all sorts of epidemics which accompany or follow warfare.

Realising the vital importance of the matter the National Government has mapped out elaborate plans to combat epidemics throughout the country. Formerly there were three anti-epidemic centres in China, but these are being supplemented by a hundred fixed stations scattered all over the country, special attention being given to refugee areas. An important part of their duties is mass vaccination and inoculation against typhoid and cholera as well as the education of the people by lectures, and with lantern slides.

The Executive Yuan has just sanctioned the expenditure of $50,000 a month for this purpose while the New Life Movement is also undertaking a mass campaign to educate the people in hygiene and cleanliness.

WITH Hankow crowded with refugees and the advent of the warm weather, the authorities are taking precautionary measures against the spread of epidemics. Medical men fear that cholera may make its appearance in Chungking this summer. A population of 1,500,000 is herded together within a walled city barely three miles long and a mile broad, with the dark and steeply-sloped lanes tenanted by large numbers of human beings, and by an even larger number of rats. To develop and increase the power of the masses requires, among other things, discipline, education, and economic well-being.

One of the fundamental factors is health and the National Government is wide awake to the necessity of keeping its citizens in good health. The League of Nations Epidemic Commission is co-operating with the Chinese National Health Administration to prevent and fight epidemics which, with the movement of the large number of troops and war refugees from one

Hello & Goodbye

— BY A. W. HYER —

Congratulations, Air France. The Colony of Hong Kong is happy to welcome you.

Monsieur Le Capitaine Cortin circled his Fokker plane, "La Resolute," over Kai Tak and put her down to a beautiful landing at 12.10 p.m. Wednesday.

The French Consul-General, Monsieur J. T. Dupuy, Mr. R. Ohi and Mr. R. Noblet, of Messageries Maritimes, were on hand to extend greetings to the first arrival of Air France.

Flying with Captain Cortin were a co-pilot and navigator with one passenger, Mr. A. Pucheu, Assistant Manager of Air France.

Though this flight is for survey work, 100 lbs. of "first flight mail" was delivered to the Post Office official at Kai Tak (Hope all you stamp collectors were in on it).

Friday a.m. the same crew will depart for Hanoi. Just when the regular service will commence, is still in the air (Air France), but it is hoped the date will be the end of the month.

Newcomers to Hong Kong

A GREAT BIG HELLO! to Captain E. A. R. Fowles, who is connected with the Aviation Department of the Asiatic Petroleum Co. Ltd.

This charming cosmopolitan gentleman will be a permanent resident in Hong Kong and we know that the Shanghaieses were sorry to have you leave their midst. It is our pleasure to welcome you. Another How-do-you-do for Mr. G. V. Ball, connected with the National City Bank of New York.

This gracious gentleman from Virginia has been in the Canton offices of said Company for the past two and a half years, and we hope he will like his transfer to the Colony.

Mr. Ball has a Mrs. who is at present visiting in the U.S.A. and will join him here in the early fall, and that will add another hostess to the social goings-on here.

President Jefferson

IT IS A VERY SAD STATE of affairs—and such long faces—but "damn" it all, why not?

When Captain John Griffith wharfed his President Jefferson, American Mail Line, Thursday, 7.30 a.m., it was probably the last call here for some time to come. As you Public know, American Mail is up in the air as to future ownership and sailings. But here's hoping that something drastic will take place and enable these comfortable Trans-Pacific vessels to carry on.

Arriving via the President Jefferson, was Mr. L. Dayaram from Japan. We chased him up and down, in and out, but could not catch him to inquire about the "What's doing in the silk business."

We are glad you are back and hope you had a successful trip. Besides the eleven other passengers Manila bound was a black and white Springer Spaniel. He is on place to another, are bound to break out in spite of all precautions. Thirteen health experts are now working with the Chinese health authorities in Central, Southern and the North-Western provinces.

The National Government has established more than 388 base hospitals for wounded soldiers with accommodation for some 200,000. As soon as the men are in a condition to travel they are sent from the field hospital to one of these base hospitals. Wounded from the Yangtze area are sent to base hospitals in Kiangsi, those from the Tientsin-Pukow Peiping-Hankow railway fronts are sent to Hupeh and Tientsin-Pukow Peiping-Hankow railway fronts are sent to Hupeh and Honan.

APPROXIMATELY about ten per cent of the wounded succumb before they reach the base hospitals where the death rate is only five per cent. Sixty per cent of the wounded sent to the base hospitals have been cured and discharged. Although ninety per cent of the work is done by the Chinese Government, valuable assistance is being rendered by various foreign missions and Red Cross.

An institute for the education of wounded soldiers and war orphans is being established with the munificent gift of $2,000,000 recently by the well-known Chinese philanthropist Mr. Aw Boon-haw. This money is to serve as the nucleus of a Foundation Fund.

The present arrangements are far from ideal but the situation is improving daily and the Chinese Government and public institutions are doing their utmost to meet the gigantic problem facing them.

his way to join his Master, a Commander in the U.S.N. in Manila. With much panting and drooling, he informed us of the "American Repression" now in progress at home, and also of his disgust with the hot weather. "Me, I'm a huntin' derg, how's it here?"—And a swell hound he is.

Captain and Mrs. J. E. McDonald, U.S.N., of the Navigation Purchasing office in Shanghai, left on the President Jefferson, Wednesday, 4 p.m. for Manila after a short visit in the Colony.

Pan American Airways

THE POPULAR Capt. W. Culbertson parked his Hawaiian Clipper, Monday, 3.55 p.m. at Kai Tak.

Mr. Fred M. Harden, of Manila, had another pleasant Clipper ride for himself. The mission this time is strictly personal, he will be meeting his family who will arrive via the Empress of Japan and together they will all journey back to the home town, Manila, by this same vessel.

Another customer, who was greeted by two attractive young ladies on his arrival at Kai Tak, was Mr. Bruce Leighton of Curtiss Wright Aircraft. He returns from a business trip to Manila and was glad to be back home again.

Eurasia Aviation Corporation

MONDAY, 5.00 P.M., in from Hong Kong via the Eurasia Plane came Mr. A. N. Young.

A short call over night in the Colony and off for Manila and Baguio via the Clipper, Tuesday morning, went Mr. Young, who is one of the Financial Advisors to the Chinese Government in the North. Accompanying this American gentleman was a male Chinese nurse, as Mr. Young has been extremely ill with typhoid fever. After a vacation of several weeks in Baguio, Mr. Young will return to the Capital, and we hope at that time to succeed in having a chat with him. Best wishes for a quick recovery.

Imperial Airways

IT WAS 6.00 A.M. MONDAY, the "Della," with Captain J. L. M. White stepping on the gas, and Co-pilot W. A. Cash, wide awake, and assisting, took off for Bangkok with important customers.

Mr. A. D. S. Murray, No. One at Imperial Airways' Hong Kong office, departed for a two weeks business journey. This trip is one of ordinary routine inspection—we hope you have a good time.

One of Imperial's top notch pilots, R. O. O. Taylor, was another passenger on the "Della." This good looking Mister is flying back to London. Survey work for the new Imperial flying boats to come has kept him busy for several weeks in the Far East.

We did not have the pleasure of meeting Mr. Taylor, and we have heard such very nice things about him—but we were really scared of him! And we hope to have the pleasure, when he calls again.

Mr. D. E. De Wild of the Colony, another passenger, was flying to London on a business trip. He will be a round tripper and we hope to nab him on his return and give you some lowdown on the latest London news.

Peak Murder
Trial

Mr. H. C. Macnamara, instructed by Mr. M. A. da Silva defended, and the Crown was represented by Mr. J. Whyatt, Assistant Attorney General.

The jury comprised Messrs. J. Smith (Foreman), F. Tock, B. Chan, J. M. Nolasco da Silva, C. L. dos Santos, Kwah King-sing and J. Macpherson.

DOCTOR CROSS-EXAMINED

Dr. Pfister, cross-examination of whom had been reserved on the previous day, went into the box at the start of the proceedings.

Mr. Whyatt: You said yesterday that you were an L.R.C.P. and M.R.C.S. of London.—Yes.

In point of fact, you are not on the London register?—Not at present.

Can you assist me to this extent it is 20 years since you were on the London register?—I don't know.

Will you agree with me that, for the past 20 years, you have not been on the London register?

On being further pressed on the point, witness said he could not agree or disagree but a friend had told him that he was not on the London register some time ago.

Continuing cross-examination, Mr. Whyatt asked:

Are you putting yourself forward in this case as a specialist in mental diseases?—Yes.

Your special subject in medicine is neurology?—Yes; and mental diseases.

Neurology principally?—Yes.

Would you agree with me that to be a specialist in neurology is a different thing to being a specialist in mental diseases?—Yes.

When you came to Court yesterday you were prepared to state that in your opinion prisoner was an epileptic and, in arriving at that opinion, you had proceeded on the assumption that he had no recollection of his attack on Mrs. Challinor?—I said yesterday that the behaviour of the accused, his way of attack, and later his attack on the servants, and his acts, were at that time equivalent to epilepsy.

Mr. Whyatt repeated his question and witness replied: "That would be implied."

I don't want any implications. You did proceed on that assumption?—I don't think so.

His Lordship: Until yesterday evening had you not formed the opinion that prisoner could not have remembered what happened that night?—Yes.

Mr. Whyatt: And that being your view, that was an important factor in assisting you in arriving at the opinion that he was an epileptic?—Yes.

"THEORY GOES BY BOARD"

You realise that if the answers accused gave me in cross-examination that he recollected the attack and knew he was doing wrong in stabbing Mrs. Challinor, if those answers are true your theory goes by the board?—Not necessarily.

Mr. Whyatt: If prisoner's answer that he knew what he was doing is true, your theory goes by the board?—If the statement he made yesterday was made in a clear mind it could have been true.

I'm not asking you whether it was true or not. Assuming, the accused was speaking the truth, your theory goes by the board?—Yes.

DOCTOR NOT WELL

Here the doctor said he was not feeling well. He was permitted to leave the box and the room, and the Court adjourned.

His Lordship was heard to comment on the atmosphere of the Court and said he hoped something would be done about it some day.

When hearing was resumed after five minutes, Mr. Whyatt questioned Dr. Pfister: You said in evidence yesterday that as a psychologist you would not trust the prisoner's answers from the witness-box?—Yes.

Could you give the reasons?—He was emotional and he was in a certain state of confused mind.

Did you observe when I cross-examined him, he equivocated with me on the question of leprosy?—Yes.

But in the afternoon when he was telling his own story without any questioning from me, he stated that leprosy was regarded as an important matter?—I cannot recollect what he said in the afternoon.

You are an ordinary person, Doctor?

SUMMING-UP BY MR. JUSTICE LINDSELL

What part of evidence that he gave in the afternoon was it that made you think that he was not speaking like a sane and orderly man?—If he said in the afternoon that he took objection to being called a leper that could indicate that he had a normal feeling.

Did he make any contradictory statements in his evidence yesterday afternoon?—No.

Well, I am asking you on what you based your opinion, confining your attention to the evidence he gave in the afternoon, that he was not speaking like an ordinary man?

Witness replied he could not recollect what had actually been said by the prisoner. However he consulted a newspaper report of the proceedings, which quoted prisoner as saying he preferred to be guilty rather than be treated as a lunatic.

Mr. Whyatt: Is it necessary that a person should say he would rather speak the truth than be treated as a lunatic?—No, but in this case it would indicate that he was not of a normal mind.

When Counsel was about to put another question, Dr. Pfister again said he was not feeling well and asked for permission to leave the Court, whereupon Mr. Whyatt said that if it would assist he would not ask any more questions.

Dr. G. I. Shaw was the last witness called and he was put in the box by the Crown as an expert witness. He stated that he was Medical Officer of the Hong Kong Prisons and had seen prisoner almost daily since July 11. It was required nowadays that the Medical Officer make out a report on prisoners awaiting trial on the capital charge and in Chun's case he had sent in his report stating that he regarded him as sane.

RETINOSCOPY TEST
Witness said he made a physical examination of accused in order to see if there was some disease which might give rise to insanity but there was none.

On July 2 he applied the retinoscopy test to prisoner, putting atropine drops in the eye to examine the back of the eyes for some hidden disorder but found none. Incidentally the dilatation effects of these drops on the pupils may have influenced Dr. Pfister in his examination of the accused soon after, since the doctor had not been informed of the test.

In cross-examination Dr. Shaw said he did not express any opinion as to the sanity or otherwise of prisoner at the time he committed the crime.

Dr. Shaw concluded that he still believed prisoner was sane.

FINAL ADDRESSES

In his final address to the jury, Mr. Macnamara said he was claiming no more than that, on the evidence the jury must be able to say that at the time of the crime the accused was insane inasmuch as he was an epileptic equivalent and did not know what he was doing. Instead of having the ordinary epilepsy, prisoner had the equivalent of such a fit and if that was proved, the jury must return a verdict of guilty but insane.

Referring to prisoner's confession, Counsel said there were two views to it: it might be true or it might be merely further evidence on his state of mind. It was for the jury to say whether the confession could be believed, for it had been known that there were such things as false confessions.

Prisoner had stated he was not feeling well when he was in the witness-box, and the strain of the trial might have induced him to make up his mind to say something to put an end to "this miserable dragged-out trial."

DR. PFISTER CLEAR

The evidence of Dr. Pfister had been clear and consistent. He had made two elaborate examinations of accused, and was of the opinion that prisoner was in a very low mental condition and that at the time of the murder he was suffering from what was known as epileptic equivalent—went mad, and did not know what he was doing. This might have been due to domestic trouble, the notice to quit or the refusal of a reference. That accused had been subjected to such seizures had been stated in evidence by two persons, who said that on one occasion prisoner broke up the crockery in the kitchen and on another smashed the furniture.

Dealing with the question of motive, Counsel said there was some evidence of a grievance on the part of prisoner—real or imaginary, about his treatment by Mr. and Mrs. Challinor. It was for the jury to say whether that was enough motive for the dreadful killing, but Counsel submitted that a motive, such as this, was negligible to the mind of a sane person for such an attack.

The only solution, Counsel suggested, to the jury, in considering a case of this kind, was to exercise common sense, by which one could make out some sort of sense of all the different factors in the evidence. If they did so, the jury could come to no other conclusion than that prisoner did not know what he was doing, and therefore their verdict should be guilty but insane.

CROWN'S TRIBUTE

Mr. Whyatt opened his address by paying a tribute to Mr. Macnamara for his "battle against adversity," a fact which always excited his admiration and sometimes sympathy, because he was battling on behalf of a man who had confessed to the killing and who had apologised for wasting the time of the Court.

Prisoner, continued Counsel, had admitted he knew what he was doing was wrong, he was labouring under great provocation, and was angry at the time. That was a strong motive.

He had removed his belongings to a clansman of his before the killing, and the only rational explanation for this action, Counsel suggested, was what he was preparing for a speedy exit from the Colony.

Counsel said he did not care what was the mental condition of accused when he attacked the coolie; what he was concerned with was his mental condition when he attacked Mrs. Challinor. The accused had made his confession in the witness box and it was not for any doctor or anybody else to tell the jury whether to believe that confession or not.

"Accused stands there today, a sane man. It is not disputed that he is a sane man. He is a self-confessed murderer and he knows today what he knew then, that what he was doing was wrong," said Counsel.

"Let me read another authority to you: 'It has also been said by the prisoner's Counsel that the attack of the prisoner was that of a madman in committing the offence at such a time in the presence of the woman's husband who had arms within his reach. But it would be a most dangerous doctrine to lay down that because a man committed a desperate offence with the chance of instant death or the certainty of future punishment before him, he was therefore insane—as if the perpetration of crime was to be excused by their very atrocity.'"

"Gentlemen of the jury, in obedience to your oaths, can you refuse to return a verdict as the law requires? Shortly you will pronounce the last word: let that be a word that will leave you with a sense of duty done."

THE SUMMING-UP

Beginning his summing-up as soon as the case resumed in the afternoon, the Acting Chief Justice occupied just under half an hour. The text follows:—

"Gentlemen of the jury, prisoner, in this case having pleaded not guilty, and having subsequently raised the defence of insanity, there are only three questions, I think, which you as judges of fact have to call upon to decide. It is only upon the third of these questions, I think, that you will find any difficulty.

"Firstly, was in fact Mrs. Challinor killed by prisoner? Of that, I imagine, you can have no possible doubt. The Crown has discharged its onus here. By the evidence of Dr. Durran and the story of Mr. Challinor himself, it is established beyond all reasonable doubt that on that night prisoner stabbed Mrs. Challinor and she died as a result of those stab wounds she received at his hands.

"The second point is, assuming that prisoner was sane at the time, is there, any explanation of his killing Mrs. Challinor other than murder. I suggest to you that no fact emerges as an explanation of that killing other than murder. The law assumes killing to be murder unless evidence shows that it was, or might have been, otherwise. If a sane person attacks another without excuse and as a result of that attack the person dies, the attacker is guilty of murder.

"No question of excuse other than insanity has been raised here. Though you might think that prisoner might have had some grievance against his employers that in itself is not enough to justify him.

"There remains only the third question. Assuming you are satisfied, and you must be, that Mrs. Challinor was killed by prisoner in circumstances which if he were sane amounted to murder, was in fact prisoner at the time sane or insane. To help you answer that question it is my duty to give you certain directions in law, directions as to what is meant by insanity in its legal sense as an excuse of a crime.

PRESUMPTION OF SANITY

"First of all, there is in English law what is called a presumption of sanity. That is to say, every one is presumed sane, to be responsible for his acts, until the contrary is proved to the satisfaction of the jury. To apply that principle here: if accused seeks to escape the full penalty of his actions, then the whole onus is on him to satisfy you that he was insane at the time. It is not for the Crown to satisfy you that he was sane.

"Secondly, the only form of insanity that English law recognises is such a defect of reason in the accused that at the time of committing the crime he either did not know what he was doing, or that if he did know that, he did not know it was wrong. To apply this to prisoner. This plea of insanity can only help prisoner if on the evidence you are satisfied beyond all reasonable doubt that at the time of killing Mrs. Challinor he was suffering from such disorder of mind as either not to know what he was doing or did not know what he was doing was wrong. Nothing short of that will excuse.

"Unless you honestly convince yourself on the evidence that at the time prisoner must have been insane in that limited sense which I have explained, then it is your duty to find him guilty of murder without qualification.

"That brings me to the evidence on this point of insanity. As I said before the onus is on the defence to satisfy you on this point. That does not mean that the defence has to convince you entirely of the months of its own witnesses. It means they must satisfy you taking the whole of the evidence into consideration that he must have been insane. For this purpose they seek to establish that at the time prisoner must have been suffering from a fit of epileptic equivalent, and they pin their whole case on that.

"LACK OF MOTIVE"

"In attempting to satisfy you that they rely not only on their own evidence, as I have said, but on the facts proved by the Crown. They summarise these facts rather shortly as follows:—firstly, lack of motive, then violence of strength shown by prisoner in his attack on Mrs. Challinor and then on her husband, subsequently the attack on his fellow-servants by prisoner, his climbing of the roof, his cry of 'robbers', the allegations of a conspiracy by himself and the other servants, and the state of low mentality which has been ascribed to him by one of the medical witnesses for the Crown as well as by the medical witness for the defence. Finally his omission from any act of commission of this crime, though he gave a full and roughly accurate account of many of the events which preceded it.

MERE OPINION NOT BINDING

"These are the facts on which the defence rely to show unbound mind at the time of the crime and in addition to that they have called Dr. Pfister as an expert in this line of disease. I must remind you that you are not bound to accept the view of any authority, however eminent, especially if, as here, it is challenged. A mere expression of opinion of that sort is not in any way binding. Medicine is not an accurate science.

"Dr. Pfister's view was that as the result of examining prisoner on two occasions he found him of low mental and physical standard, and was led by his general demeanour and apparent lack of intelligence and by certain aspects of his physical condition to diagnose his case as that of one prone to epilepsy, and further, that consideration of the facts that have emerged in evidence, including the evidence of two of prisoner's fellow-countrymen as to his strange behaviour some two years ago—consideration of these facts confirmed his diagnosis and led him to believe that prisoner must have been suffering at the time from a fit of epilepsy, with the natural result that at the time he neither knew what he was doing or that it was wrong.

"In his view, therefore, prisoner's own confession in the box yesterday, as well as to the police constable immediately after the crime, and subsequently to Dr. Thomas, which in the view of the ordinary individual, would not doubt suggest that prisoner knew what he was doing, and knew it was wrong, was a story consistent with his diagnosis, and not to be accepted on face value—that some stimulant or mental excitement recalled to his mind facts of which he knew nothing at the time.

"This is Doctor Pfister's view, which you must consider and weigh. At the same time you must remember that this form of epilepsy is very rare, and still more rare for a person to remember after an attack.

"There is also the point that Dr. Pfister was influenced by the conditions of prisoner's eyes when he examined him on July 5. We now know that the eyes must have been affected by the drops used previously by Dr. Shaw.

"MAY BE CONCOCTED"

"Finally, in respect of that evidence, you will remember it is largely guided by the evidence of the two Yan Ping men who spoke to this occasion at the Association, two years ago. Gentlemen, it is for you to say whether that evidence is true. It may be concocted. It is for you to weigh and decide whether it is true. If you are satisfied the story is true, Dr. Pfister's views are strengthened.

"On the other hand, two medical witnesses have been called for the Crown. The first is Dr. Thomas, who, on the face of it, is likely to have had more experience of mental cases than Dr. Pfister himself, having been for ten years in charge of the Mental Hospital, with an average of 200 patients a year. His view is that all these unusual facts, which I have detailed, do not necessarily show that prisoner was suffering at the time from epileptic equivalent. They are consistent with such an epileptic state but in his view they are equally consistent with sanity.

As regards prisoner's general demeanour and appearance while at Queen Mary Hospital he has told you that he found nothing to indicate any known form of insanity.

"In his view prisoner's story to him of that conspiracy—of that attack on the Challinors—is inconsistent with prisoner having suffered from epileptic equivalent at the time. He tells you also that this form comes usually with the case of chronic epileptics, whereas there is no evidence here that prisoner has shown any signs of insanity in the two years between the incidents at the Yan Ping Association and the attack on Mrs. Challinor.

"The again there is the evidence of Dr. Shaw. He had prisoner under constant observation and saw him every day for a month. In that time he observed no sign of any form of insanity, and that examination of his eyes and his jerky reactions, about which Dr. Pfister formed a contrary opinion, were abnormal.

"Finally, I come to the prisoner's own story—his statement yesterday when you heard and saw him in the box. In the morning he had seemed dull and stupid. In the afternoon up to a point alert, and on the face of it, convincing. His story of many of the events of that night have been borne out by the evidence. He admitted with what appeared to be complete candour having a grievance against his employers, and against his fellow-servants. He admitted stabbing, and that at the time he knew it was wrong. He asked for time to settle up his affairs and see his friends.

DR. PFISTER'S VIEW

"The defence will have you believe that this confession should be discarded, on Dr. Pfister's view because it was given under a strain of mind and emotionalism—both symptoms of epilepsy—that it was only after the stabbing that he recollected the stabbing and knew it was wrong. To put it colloquially, his mind was asleep at the time and only later awakened.

"That is Dr. Pfister's opinion. One of the reasons, as I understand it, was that one of unsound mind would prefer death than being branded a lunatic. Is it not possible that one of the sanest mind would prefer death to an asylum? Was the attitude of the prisoner in the box yesterday that of one who, after a long period of equivocation and fencing, suddenly makes up his mind to make a clean breast.

ONUS ON DEFENCE

"You are men of the world and it is for you to decide. The onus here in particular is on the defence. The defence must satisfy you that that confession—surely, as Mr. Whyatt said, the best possible evidence against him—was the product of a diseased mind and cannot be accepted. Unless you are so satisfied your duty is clear.

"Finally, does not consideration of the whole of the evidence, especially prisoner's admission from the box, lead you to the conclusion that having brooded for several days over some fancied or real grievance or insult—not very strong motive perhaps, but adequate motive it may be to one of his intelligence—that he completely

CHINESE REACH
TSIYUAN
CITY GATES

Chengchow, July 13.

Advancing in two columns, Chinese troops have reached the east and west city gates of Tsiyuan.

The Japanese outposts at Tung-lu and Hsiliu Villages in the outskirts were routed by the Chinese and withdrew into the city.

The Japanese garrison at Shih-pienchen, west of Tsiyuan in north Honan, numbering about 500 men was practically wiped out by the Chinese in a sudden attack on the night of July 11.

Reinforced by fresh troops, they launched a counter-attack on the Chinese yesterday. The opposing forces are still pitted against each other at Shih-pienchen.

After days of fighting, a lull has set in at Shao-yuan, about 50 kilometres west of Tsiyuan.—(Central News).

Suggestions

Hankow, July 13.

Whilst approving the diplomatic policy of the National Government, the People's Political Council advanced the following suggestions for improving the administration of foreign affairs at its meeting yesterday.

1. Investigation should be made into the efficiency of the diplomatic machine and personnel, and improvements effected.

2. Diplomatic and consular officers abroad should be instructed to improve and tighten their work on intelligence reports.

3. A unified policy for international publicity should be laid down and international publicity work centralised.

4. Diplomatic activities of citizens should be accelerated under the direction of the government. In particular, government subsidies and help should be extended to prominent citizens touring abroad for diplomatic purposes.

5. Facts relating to the international situation should be published by the government.—(Central News).

Credit Balance In Every Coal Mining
District In Britain

London, July 13.
A credit balance in every coal mining district in Britain is shown in the Mines Department's return of working results of the industry in the first quarter of this year. The return reveals that the amount of saleable coal raised was 60,433,952 tons and that 56,187,345 tons was commercially disposable.

Shipments amounted to 11,326,417 tons. Proceeds of sales amounted to £48,764,365 and net costs of production to £13,295,356, leaving a credit balance of £5,589,009.

Commenting on the return, the Mining Association recalls that in the March quarter was £3,500,000 higher than in 1935, £4,250,000 more than in 1936, and nearly £7,600,000 higher than in 1935. These higher wages have been rendered possible by increased revenue. The miners' average money earning per shift in the March quarter were 72.2 per cent higher than in 1914.—(British Wireless).

SPORTING NEWS AND NOTES

LAWN BOWLS NOTES League Matches Washed Out

By B. R. Swiller

Although the sky was overcast and rain fell intermittently on Saturday forenoon it was felt that it would be possible to carry out the Lawn Bowls League programme. But the heavy downpour which occurred at about 4 p.m., caused all matches to be abandoned. In many cases, after the fifth head had been played.

Recreio, in their match against the Kowloon Bowling Green Club at Austin Road, had run away with a substantial lead of 19 shots to 8 on the sixth head when rain interrupted play. At Happy Valley, bowlers on the Police as well as the Civil Service greens made several abortive attempts to resume their interrupted matches, but they had to give it up when the rain came in earnest.

Three of the four matches arranged for Sunday in the quarter-finals of the Open Rinks Championship were decided. On the Civil Service green, A. E. Carey's rink (W. McLeod, W. Cameron and E. G. Post) beat B. Basto's (J. A. Lutz, A. P. Gutierrez and F. X. Segares) by 21 shots to 15.

On the K.B.G.C. green, A. F. Noronha, C. A. Lopes, J. E. Noronha and C. G. Silva beat W. Mulcahy, T. W. Carr, W. Craig and J. Fraser. The losers played well in the beginning and were leading on the first seven heads, but they unaccountably fell off after that and lost by 14 shots to 20.

A CLOSE GAME

A very close game was witnessed on the Kowloon Dock green when F. X. Silva's rink (F. Machado, C. M. Silva and J. V. Ribeiro) met and defeated J. G. Meyer's (E. J. Searle, K. C. Hamilton and C. O. Norman) by 13 shots to 11. The closeness of the game can be judged by the fact that on the 20th head, only 21 shots had been scored, of which the eventual winners (Silva's rink) had only scored ten. Needing two to win, Silva scored three shots on the last head.

DALLAH'S WIN

Those who went to the Police green on Monday to see the match in the first round of the Singles Championship between A. R. Dallah and F. J. McGowan had anticipated a very close game. Nor were they disappointed at first for though the Indian was trailing behind McGowan in the early stages, he would not allow his opponent to be ahead of him by more than three shots, and some of the heads played were indeed beautiful. However, on the 17th head, Dallah, by steady play, had brought up his score to 12, to tie with McGowan's. Thereafter the Civil Servant for some reason fell off and what promised to be an exciting game ended in a one-sided affair. McGowan scored only three more shots for the remainder of the game which went to the 25th head on which Dallah won with the score at 22-15.

UPHILL FIGHT

From the point of view of excitement, the match between M. R. Abbas and R. Channing, played on the Civil Service green, was more interesting. Channing settled down to the green sooner than Abbas and kept ahead of his opponent most of the way. The game was as good as his when on the 21st head he was leading Abbas by 19 shots to 13. With his back to the wall, Abbas fought back so effectively that for the next five heads he scored eight shots to win eventually by 21-19 on the 26th head. But for the fact that on three occasions on the last five heads, Channing with his last wood saved big counts against himself (two fours and a three), the game would have ended before it reached the 26th head.

TWO SURPRISES

There were two surprises in the first round matches played on Monday. L. A. Gutierrez, a former champion, was nosed out by E. Zimmerman, who is comparatively a newcomer to the game, when they met on the Kowloon Dock green. The game was decided on the 28th head when the score was 23-20 in Zimmerman's favour. The latter stages of the game proved most thrilling. With the score at 18-19 on the 25th head, both Gutierrez and Zimmerman took turns to score a single each alternately to level up at 20-20. On the next head, which was the last Zimmerman ran away with three shots to win by 23-20.

Another surprise was the defeat of C. G. Silva by H. F. Harper. This match too was played on the Kowloon Dock green. Although Silva was leading by 19 shots to 11 on the 15th head, it took Harper only three more heads to score the ten shots necessary for a win. The match between S. M. White and F. Nolan which was played on the Hong Kong Football Club

DONALD BUDGE DEFEATED

Belgrade, July 13. Donald Budge, Wimbledon champion and holder of nearly all the major tennis titles in the world, was "surprisingly" defeated yesterday in an exhibition match here by Kukuljevic, the young Czechoslovakian Davis Cup player. Budge was beaten by 15-13, 7-5.—(Reuter).

Get rid of Disfiguring Blemishes this Easy Way

Nothing can be more distracting to a woman than ugly pimples, burning irritations or patches of blackheads or enlarged pores on the face or neck. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them; whilst others cause the skin to become muddy-looking, coarse and blemished by using the wrong treatment.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects.

To make your skin clear and healthy, to cleanse clogged facial pores, remove blackheads and pimples and to make your complexion clearer and smoother, use Cuticura.

To rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

Cuticura
For Clear Healthy Skin
Sold by all Chemists and Stores. Ask for Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. And for powder use Cuticura Talcum—exceptionally fine and pure, exquisitely perfumed.

WAR'S EFFECTS
ON TRADEDeutsch-Asiatische
Bank's Report

Berlin, July 13.

The profound effect of the war on imports and exports in China is described in the report of the Deutsch-Asiatische Bank in Shanghai, which states that the outbreak of the conflict occurred at a time when economic constructive activity was beginning and brought every form of business activity almost to a standstill.

The arrival from the hinterland of goods destined for export was almost suspended. Consequently, the purchase of imported goods was sluggish, particularly as a large percentage of potential buyers had fled to the interior of the country.

Owing to storage charges and supplementary shipping costs in the case of goods that had to be landed in emergency, goods had become dearer.

TRADE INCREASED

In the report it is stated that import bills in part had to be prolonged by the banks so that in most cases marketing of imported goods could hardly have taken place without loss. Despite all this, however, and in view of the favourable situation in the first half year the total trade had increased by about 9 per cent. It is moreover favourable that despite imports of about 236 million yuan in 1938 the excess of imports over exports was about 115 million yuan.

Germany's share in the China trade amounted to 15.31 per cent in imports as against 15.91 per cent in 1936, and 8.64 per cent in exports as against 5.54 per cent in 1936.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS

Customs receipts, says the report, declined inappreciably, namely from 218 to 213 million yuan, despite the fact that the main centres of production are now occupied by the Japanese.

What development Chinese currency will take in the future cannot yet be foreseen. It is, however, to be expected that economic life will suffer greater and greater injury and losses.—(Transocean).

THE CHINA
MARKETJapan's Methods
Criticism

The position of British shipping, which is being run off the seas by countries like Germany and Italy, who seem able to pay enormous sums to run their ships at uneconomic rates, was discussed in Glasgow recently by Sir Malcolm A. Robertson, former British Ambassador to Argentina, when he spoke at the annual meeting of the Incorporated Sales Managers' Association at the Empire Exhibition.

Sir Malcolm said that British shipping was not making any headway. It was in fact receding, and that to a large extent was due to foreign competition and foreign subsidies, which were a very serious and growing menace to fair trade throughout the world. He wondered whether the nation had given full weight to that menacing background in international life.

We tried to run our ships on a commercial and economic basis. The Germans and Italians and some others looked upon the building up of a great mercantile marine as a national interest and subsidised it accordingly.

BASIS OF EQUALITY

On a basis of equality Britain could compete with any nation in the world on the seas, but it was impossible to compete against state subsidies on a large scale. An important market which to a very large extent had been closed to Britain was China, where Japan was waging her military efforts.

Japan had assured us, said Sir Malcolm, that she would always keep an open door but we had had experience of that open door in Manchuria—it was a very wide open door, but was an exit for British trade. Britain was, therefore, in the process of losing one of the most important markets for our goods, notably cotton goods, and Manchester was also suffering from Japanese competition through cheapness of labour.

SHIP OF RADIO WONDERS

The new Cunard-White Star liner Mauretania, which is to be launched at Birkenhead on July 28, will exhibit many of the latest marvels of science.

Her wireless communication system, sound reproduction system, directional finding, and deep sea sounding apparatus all embody the very latest results of research.

Radio telegrams may be sent to England and America, and messages to other ships simultaneously. From public kiosks near lifts passengers may talk by telephone to any subscriber in the world—without noise or interference.

Three different programmes will be broadcast simultaneously to passengers in each class.

A passenger walking through the ship may hear the ship's orchestra by broadcast in one room, a radio gramophone record programme broadcast in another, and a wireless station programme from a third.

In the big public rooms the volume will be regulated by a switch—according to the number of people in the room. Passengers' clothing absorbs some of the sound, and as the restaurant, for instance, fills at a meal hour, the volume will be increased without the passengers being aware of it.

As they leave, it will gradually be reduced. Moreover they will not know whence the sound comes—so skillfully are the loud speakers concealed.

THE SECRET

It is, however, possible to reveal part of the secret. Two or three of the loud speakers in the restaurant are inside the hollow pillars. The air inside the pillars assists the regulation of the diffused sound.

The ship is wired so that if occasion arises a broadcast of sounds at sea might be made through the B.B.C. or any other land system.

Science has stepped in again to prevent interference with her sound reproduction systems from the ship's lighting and power, which is almost sufficient to run a large town's services.

The receiving room for telephone and telegraph messages and wireless programmes is completely lined with copper and the wires along which the messages come will be led into filters which will remove all noise.

FRENCH BUDGET DEFICIT

LOAN ISSUE IS CONTEMPLATED

Paris, July 13. To cover the budget deficit the French Government proposes to float a short term loan, the amount of which has not yet been made known but which is said will be very considerable.

It is believed, however, in well-informed circles that national defence bonds of 18 months duration bearing 3 1/2 per cent interest will be issued. It is expected that the greater part of the issue will in the first instance be taken over by the Bank of France.—(Transocean).

The directional finding apparatus, in a small room leading from the chart room, is copper-lined to give it a quiet background.

An automatic echometer measures the depth of the ocean by throwing sound to the ocean-bed and recording the time the echo takes to return.

The simple operation of a switch will enable the ship automatically to plot the floor of the ocean all the way across the Atlantic on a graph similar to those made by temperature and recording apparatus.

TRAVEL ASSCN. HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

A local journal some time ago suggested that the Hong Kong mind was not "patronly," a suggestion in which may possibly be reflected the continued falling off of public support of the Association and one which would appear worthy of exploration.

In the year 1935 the Government accepted the recommendation of the preliminary advisory Committee, whose report was published and laid before the Legislative Council and contributed to the funds of the Association the sum of $25,000.00. This gave the Association something to start on. Contributions from the public for the same period amounted to $16,041.00.

CONTRIBUTION REDUCED

In 1936 the Government again gave to the Association without stipulations the sum of $15,000.00, and in introducing the Budget the Colonial Secretary stated that the contribution was reduced from $25,000 to $15,000 at the suggestion of the Secretary of State for the Colonies, but the Government indicated its willingness to ask the Secretary of State to sanction a supplementary vote if the public response to the appeal for funds justified such a course.

This was clearly a case where, without public support it would not have been justifiable to expend large sums from the public funds, and it was the intention of the Government, as soon as the scheme was further advanced, to make its contribution on a dollar for dollar basis as was recommended by the Committee mentioned. This principle has now been adopted.

CHINESE RESPONSE

I note from the report of the Directors of the Association that the repeated appeals made by the Secretary for funds continue to show a disappointing response. Of the amount that has been subscribed, the bulk came from public companies and European firms. Although these companies represent Chinese capital to no small extent it seems a pity that the direct response from the Chinese community appears so disproportionate.

I should like to have to record a more individual and direct encouragement from that quarter, and I would avail myself of the opportunity afforded me here today to impress upon all the importance to the Colony of this project. The development of Hong Kong as a holiday resort cannot fail to become, directly or indirectly, of value to everyone, whether he be the head of a large firm, or a small tradesman or a rickshaw coolie.

It is to be hoped therefore that those who realise the great potentialities of this organisation will continue to support it to the best of their ability.

Ample evidence is on record that our work is having very good effect. The ideal situation, natural beauties and sporting amenities of Hong Kong offer such attractions that I venture to prophesy that our claims for the Colony as a holiday resort are on the eve of a fuller recognition.

YEAR'S PROGRAMME

You will notice from the Report of the Directors that the estimate of our fourth year's programme covers an item of $6,000 for the printing of a specially illustrated and illuminated book on Hong Kong. This work is being prepared by the well-known authoress, Ellen Thorbecke, a specialist in travel literature, and should prove a welcome addition to the Association's propaganda material.

A sum of $300 has been voted for the printing in England of posters and brochures for distribution at the Empire Exhibition in Glasgow and from Hong Kong. An up-to-date travellers' map of Kowloon and the New Territories is now in the Press, newspaper and periodical advertising campaigns in the Malay States, North China and other parts are in course of preparation, and plans are under way for the representation of Hong Kong at the British Industries Fair and American Exhibitions in 1939.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The followings were elected to serve on the Board of Directors for the coming year:—
Chairman—Mr. E. J. Wynne-Jones. Members of the Board:—Mr. J. H. Taggart, O. B. E., Mr. Tang Chung-pat, Mr. P. Todd, Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall and Major R. D. Walker, M. C.

ly lost control of himself, as he himself admitted almost in so many words at the Magistracy, and on an impulse committed this crime?

"Secondly, did not his preparations to leave the Colony, depositing his effects with a friend, his words in the bed-room that night, words that were not challenged, words you have no reason to disbelieve; 'you say I silly, I no silly, I kill you'—words which the defence did not ask Dr. Pfister to attempt to explain—his allegations of conspiracy, allegations which as Dr. Shaw suggested had the idea of at any rate minimising it? not exculpating himself of any share in the affair do not these preparations and so forth suggest that, despite the evidence of Dr. Pfister, prisoner was far from not knowing, but was fully aware of, not only of what he was doing, but that what he was doing was wrong."

"Thirdly, are not the incidents—the use of two knives, the violence and strength of the attack, the assault on the fellow-servants, against whom also, he admits he had a grievance, even the cry of 'robbers' the climbing up on the roof—are not all these incidents, though admittedly consistent with one suffering from epileptic equivalent equally consistent with the more rational explanation of an outbreak of ungovernable and abnormal rage brought on by brooding and the reaction after the awful deed and his struggle with Mr. Challinor?"

INSANITY RULE

"I will remind you once again of the insanity rule. Uncontrolled impulse is not enough. A sense of grievance is not enough. The defence cannot rely on anything short of epileptic equivalent. And to succeed in that defence you must be satisfied that at the time prisoner was so afflicted that he did not know what he was doing or what he was doing was wrong."

"Assuming therefore, that you are absolutely satisfied as to the nature of Mrs. Challinor's death remains, only one of two verdicts. If the defence has satisfied you beyond all doubt of the prisoner's insanity at the time in the sense that I have detailed to you, then your verdict should be guilty but insane. If you are not so satisfied then it is your duty to find prisoner guilty of murder without any qualification."

"If after consideration of the whole of the evidence there is still any doubt in your mind, it is the Crown and not prisoner, who is entitled to that doubt."

THE DEATH SENTENCE

The jury retired at 3.04. Returning 17 minutes later, the foreman said: We find the prisoner guilty of murder without qualification.

His Lordship (to prisoner): The jury unanimously, and to my mind very rightly, have found you guilty. Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon you?

Prisoner: I have nothing to say. His Lordship: You have been convicted—and in my opinion rightly—for a brutal and horrible crime. Maybe, as you yourself told the court, you were suffering from a sense of grievance. That can be no possible excuse.

His Lordship then passed sentence of death. Prisoner's expression remained the same, though he was slightly pale, as he was led away from the dock.

His Lordship thanked the gentlemen of the jury for the time and trouble they had given to this "not altogether easy" case, and exempted them from jury service for four years.

CONSIDERING CHINA LOAN

London, July 13. It is understood that the question of a loan for China has been constantly under consideration in London, and various suggestions have been made, but it is gathered that matters have not yet reached a point where a decision can be reached.—(Reuters).

PRIZE DAY AT KOWLOON JUNIOR SCHOOL

Lady Northcote Distributes Awards

The Kowloon Junior School held its annual prize day in the hall of the Central British School yesterday. Lady Northcote who was attended by Captain Batty-Smith, A.D.C., distributed the prizes, after the Headmistress had read her report.

After Lady Northcote had given away the prizes, a bouquet was presented to her by little Cynthia Bell, and Mr. G. R. Beyer, Director of Education, thanked Lady Northcote on behalf of the school for distributing the prizes.

Fine handicraft by pupils of the school was on exhibition and a short play was presented by the pupils.

SCHOOL REPORT

In her report the Headmistress said, in part:—
The maximum enrolment was 125 as compared with 113 last year. Attendance is satisfactory though I wish that more parents would overcome the temptation to take their children away before school ends on Saturday mornings for beach picnics, from which they often return painfully sunburnt.

In February Miss Audsley and Miss Gemmell—both with the Higher Froebel Certificate—joined the staff. Miss Audsley has also the Higher Froebel Handwork Diploma.

HEALTH OF PUPILS

Health is generally good. Pupils were vaccinated in January and inoculated against cholera in June. Dr. Nash has inspected all new entrants and others suspected of defects. We are grateful to her for her ready help and were very sorry to say "Good-bye" to her.

MISS COOPER

The sad event of the year for this school was the retirement of Miss Cooper, Headmistress of Kowloon Junior since 1924. She was beloved by staff and children and I well know how impossible it is to take her place. We all hope she will enjoy her retirement as much as she has her time in Sydney and New Zealand.

I should like to thank the Kowloon Bus Company, for arranging optional stops near our gate, all my staff for their ready help, and the Headmaster of the Central British School for allowing us the use of this hall and for throwing open his school to our visitors. As most of our children will eventually come here, this is naturally of the greatest interest to their parents.
